conference rooms for training and increased warehouse and storage space. Charlotte, NC-based Arthur Elliott, a leading marketing, design and creative agency, was tapped to spearhead the interior design of the facility to create an immersive, mixed-use destination for TOPDON USA.

"TOPDON USA was founded in 2017 and has since become a trusted brand for reliable auto diagnostic and repair tools and technology across the U.S. and Canada," said Chad Schnitz, Vice President of TOPDON USA. "As a result of the growth and expanding product offerings, we relocated our U.S. headquarters to a larger facility. While only a few miles from our original facility, our new headquarters in Fairfield, New Jersey, is about far more than additional space. It's an investment in our team, culture, the growing demand of our customers, and support for future growth and innovation.”

The additional warehouse storage offers TOPDON USA additional space to maintain higher stock levels, reduce fulfillment times and ensure product availability. TOPDON USA also offers
