landmark strategic partnership with New Hope Treatment Centers, a nationally recognized provider of residential and community-based behavioral healthcare operating in South Carolina, serving adolescents through six distinct treatment programs.

Through this partnership, New Hope Treatment Centers will leverage blueBriX's EHR platform to support the delivery of coordinated, individualized behavioral healthcare while strengthening the clinical and operational workflows that underpin residential treatment.

PRTF and residential behavioral healthcare come with unique operational realities — dynamic staffing across communities, complex care coordination, stringent compliance requirements, and the need for workflows that adapt to real-world clinical settings. blueBriX was built with exactly this kind of complexity in mind. The partnership gives New Hope Treatment Centers the capabilities to strengthen their processes and serve their patients and communities even better.

"We've seen what residential behavioral healthcare asks of the people who deliver it — the long hours, the complexity, the constant vigilance care like this demands," said Shameem C Hameed, CEO of blueBriX. "That's why blueBriX wasn't built around a strategy. It was built around a conscience. Partnering with New Hope Treatment Centers means giving their care teams back time and peace of mind, so they can stay focused on what matters most — the children and families who need them."

The partnership reflects a shared commitment to advancing behavioral healthcare through innovation, flexibility, and clinician-centered technology. By combining New Hope Treatment Centers' expertise in residential behavioral health with blueBriX's configurable healthcare platform, the organizations aim to create a scalable digital foundation capable of evolving alongside changing clinical, operational, and regulatory needs.

"The blueBriX team blew us away with their unique product, their passion for making a difference in the mental health space, and the individualized support, service, and solutions they've consistently provided us starting with the very first call." Merri-Shannon Herndon, Director of Informatics & Analytics of New Hope Treatment Centers

This partnership further strengthens blueBriX's growing presence in behavioral health and reinforces its commitment to delivering adaptable technology solutions for organizations with complex care coordination needs.
