Bahney's election strengthens

BoyarMiller's ability to advise developers, investors, lenders and businesses on increasingly complex commercial real estate transactions across Texas. Her promotion reflects the firm's continued investment in experienced, business-minded counsel for clients navigating acquisitions, financing, leasing and development projects.

Claire brings strong judgment and a steady, solutions-focused approach to every transaction”

Blake Royal

Bahney represents commercial real estate developers, owners and private equity investors on sophisticated transactions spanning every major commercial asset class, including office, industrial, retail, multifamily, hospitality and mixed-use developments across Texas and other major U.S. markets.

Since joining BoyarMiller, Bahney has played an important role in supporting clients through sophisticated real estate matters, including joint ventures for real estate developments and redevelopments, construction and permanent financings, development and property management agreements, office, industrial, and retail leases, and purchase and sale agreements involving raw land, existing real estate assets, and equity interests.

“Claire brings strong judgment and a steady, solutions-focused approach to every transaction,” said Blake Royal, Real Estate Group Chair. “Her experience, leadership, and commitment to client service have made her an important member of our team, and we are proud to recognize her continued growth with this well-earned promotion.”

Bahney’s background includes in-house counsel experience, giving her a practical understanding of the business considerations that shape real estate transactions. As a shareholder, she will continue advising clients on complex commercial real estate matters, helping them confidently move projects forward.

Bahney earned her JD from Washington and Lee University School of Law, where she graduated in the top 20% of her class and served as Lead Articles Editor for the Washington and Lee Law Review. She earned her BA in Sociology and Political Science from Wake Forest University, graduating magna cum laude. She is a member of the State Bar of Texas.
