

Ready To Roll Garage Doors Expands into Chapel Hill with New Office, Rebranding Open Door Policy Garage Doors

Ready To Roll Garage Doors expands into Chapel Hill with a new office, bringing customized garage door solutions to homeowners across the western Triangle.

CHAPEL HILL, NC, UNITED STATES, July 17, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Ready To Roll Garage Doors has officially expanded into western North Carolina's Triangle with the opening of its new Chapel Hill office, allowing the locally owned company to better serve homeowners throughout Chapel Hill, Durham, Pittsboro, Hillsborough, Carrboro and surrounding communities.

The expansion also marks the continued transition of the trusted

Open Door Policy Garage Doors brand into Ready To Roll Garage Doors. Customers who have relied on Open Door Policy Garage Doors for more than a decade will continue receiving service from the same experienced local team while gaining access to additional technicians, expanded product offerings, faster scheduling and an even greater commitment to customer experience.

The new Chapel Hill office strengthens Ready To Roll's ability to provide garage door repair, garage door replacement, garage door opener installation and maintenance throughout Orange, Durham and Chatham counties while introducing homeowners to an approach that goes far beyond simply fixing broken garage doors.

"Most garage door companies focus on selling a repair or selling a new door," said Kyle Rutter, Owner of Ready To Roll Garage Doors. "We focus on helping homeowners find the right long-term solution for their home, lifestyle and budget. Every family uses their garage differently, so every recommendation should be different."

Every homeowner deserves a garage door solution designed for their home, lifestyle and budget—not a one-size-fits-all recommendation.”

products, Ready To Roll begins every appointment by understanding how each homeowner uses their garage, what frustrations they experience today and what they hope to accomplish in the future. That consultative process allows the company's specialists to recommend solutions designed specifically for that home instead of simply replacing the broken part.

Whether a homeowner's priority is increasing reliability, creating a quieter home, improving energy efficiency, maximizing storage space or enhancing curb appeal,

Ready To Roll develops customized recommendations that align with each customer's goals.

This philosophy has become one of the company's defining differences throughout the Triangle.

Built to Solve Problems—Not Just Repair Them

Ready To Roll has become known for helping homeowners eliminate recurring garage door problems rather than repeatedly repairing the same failures.

The company's technicians install premium, high-cycle components designed to last significantly longer than many builder-grade parts while educating homeowners on the advantages of investing in long-term reliability.

"Our goal is simple," Rutter explained. "We want to fix it once so our customers don't have to keep dealing with the same issue year after year."

Triangle's Quiet Garage Door Specialists

One area where Ready To Roll has seen growing demand is creating dramatically quieter garage door systems.

Many homeowners assume noisy garage doors are simply part of owning a home. In reality, premium insulated doors, upgraded rollers, properly balanced springs and high-quality belt-drive or wall-mounted openers can dramatically reduce vibration and operating noise.

For families with bedrooms above the garage, shift workers, young children or anyone tired of hearing the garage door shake the house, Ready To Roll specializes in designing systems that operate smoothly and quietly.

Premium Insulated Garage Doors

As more homeowners convert garages into functional living spaces, home gyms, workshops and hobby areas, insulated garage doors have become one of the company's fastest-growing product categories.

Higher-quality insulated garage doors help regulate temperatures inside the garage while reducing heat transfer into adjacent rooms, improving energy efficiency throughout the home. They also provide greater structural strength, quieter operation and tighter seals that help reduce dust, debris and unwanted pests.

Rather than viewing insulation as simply an upgrade, Ready To Roll works with homeowners to determine whether an insulated garage door will improve comfort, performance and long-term value based on how the space is used.

Creating More Space with High-Lift Garage Doors

Ready To Roll has also become one of the Triangle's specialists in high-lift garage door conversions.

By redesigning the way a garage door travels, high-lift systems move the door higher toward the ceiling, creating valuable overhead space that traditional garage doors leave unused.

These customized systems are increasingly popular among homeowners installing golf simulators, automotive lifts, overhead storage, home gyms and custom workshops.

Rather than requiring homeowners to build a larger garage, many are discovering they can unlock significant usable space simply by changing how their garage door operates.

Continuing a Trusted Local Legacy

The transition from Open Door Policy Garage Doors to Ready To Roll Garage Doors allows customers to continue working with the local professionals they already know while benefiting from additional resources and expanded capabilities.

Unlike many national franchises and private equity-backed garage door companies, Ready To Roll remains locally owned and operated, with every technician focused on education rather than high-pressure sales.

The company serves homeowners throughout Raleigh, Cary, Apex, Holly Springs, Fuquay-Varina, Wake Forest, Garner, Clayton, Morrisville, Knightdale, Chapel Hill, Durham, Pittsboro, Hillsborough, Carrboro and surrounding communities.
