

Off Leash K9 Training San Antonio Highlights Therapy Dog Development Program

The program builds obedience, manners, and distraction readiness for owners pursuing therapy dog testing and certification.

SAN ANTONIO, TX, UNITED STATES, July 24, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Off Leash K9 Training San Antonio is highlighting its Therapy Dog Development program for owners who want structured preparation before pursuing therapy dog testing and certification.

Therapy dog preparation involves more than basic obedience. Dogs may need to demonstrate calm behavior, appropriate manners, reliable responses to their handlers, and steady behavior around people, sounds, and everyday distractions. The San Antonio training team works with owners and dogs to strengthen these foundational skills before future therapy dog evaluations.

According to the company's dedicated program page, Therapy Dog Development includes two weeks of immersive training while the dog boards with a professional trainer. The curriculum covers come, sit, place, heel, down, off, come to heel, extended-distance sit, extended-distance place, and load up.

Training also addresses door manners, greeting manners, meal manners, and behavior around multiple distractions in different environments. The program includes an e-collar. Owners receive daily updates from the trainer with a photo or video, along with a before-and-after transformation video documenting the dog's progress.

The program is designed to prepare dog-and-handler teams for therapy dog testing and certification requirements. Off Leash K9 Training San Antonio also distinguishes therapy dog preparation from task-specific service-dog training. The company's website explains that service dogs are individually trained to perform tasks for a person with a disability.

A strong bond grows through trust, patience, and clear communication. This relaxed moment shows how training can help dogs feel safe, confident, and connected.

In addition to Therapy Dog Development, Off Leash K9 Training San Antonio offers private obedience lessons, basic and advanced obedience training, in-home training, puppy programs, Board & Train programs, and behavior modification options for dogs with aggression or reactivity concerns.

A happy dog and a confident owner make the perfect team. Consistent training builds trust, better communication, and more enjoyable time together.
