Eight-lesson private training program combines basic obedience, owner participation, desensitization, and structured practice around other dogs.

GREENVILLE, SC, UNITED STATES, July 20, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Off Leash K9 Training Greenville is highlighting its Aggressive Dog Training program for dog owners seeking structured support for dogs that display aggression or reactivity.

Aggression and reactivity can make walks, neighborhood encounters, and interactions around other dogs more difficult to manage. The Greenville training team offers a private-lesson program designed to help owners build a stronger obedience foundation, improve communication, and develop more consistent handling skills for challenging situations.

The Aggressive Dog Training program includes eight private lessons. According to the company's program information, the first portion incorporates its basic obedience curriculum. Additional lessons involve the owner and dog working around other dogs in different scenarios, with an emphasis on obedience, practical control, handler skills, and desensitization.

Basic obedience commands listed by Off Leash K9 Training Greenville include come, sit and extended sit, down and extended down, place and extended place, loose-leash walking, out, and off. These foundational commands give owners clearer ways to direct their dogs before practicing around more difficult distractions.

The program includes an e-collar and training leash. The company states that approximately 45
