The BUILD Architecture Awards honor architecture and design firms that demonstrate excellence in creativity, craftsmanship, and the ability to shape the built environment with impactful, forward-thinking design. The annual program recognizes projects and studios that are advancing the industry while creating meaningful spaces for the communities they serve.

Founded in San Francisco, Arcanum Architecture has established itself as a leading hospitality design firm known for creating restaurants and wineries throughout California and beyond. The firm has earned a reputation for thoughtful, collaborative design that transforms each client's vision into enduring destinations defined by quality, craftsmanship, and lasting community impact.

"We're incredibly honored to receive these recognitions from BUILD," said Anthony Fish, Owner and Senior Design Principal of Arcanum Architecture. "These awards represent the dedication, collaboration, and thoughtful design approach that guide every project we undertake. We're grateful to our clients and partners for their trust, and we're excited to continue creating beautiful spaces that produce meaningful experiences."

Arcanum's growing portfolio feels less like a collection of individual projects and more like a series of thoughtfully curated experiences, immersive spaces designed to invite people to linger, connect, and return. The firm has built a reputation for creating timeless, hospitality-driven environments that balance functionality, craftsmanship, and a deep sense of place, resulting in destinations that become part of their communities' fabric.
