

Beyond Disdain To Release Sophomore Album 'Till Death Parts Us' August 21st via Retro Modern Records

The Miami hard rock band follows 20 million first-year streams with an 18-track sophomore album; pre-saves are open now ahead of the August 21 release.

MIAMI, FL, UNITED STATES, July 21, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Retro Modern Records and Beyond Disdain today announced "Till Death Parts Us," the band's second full-length album, arriving on all major streaming platforms Friday, August 21, 2026. The 18-track record is the Miami hard rock outfit's most ambitious release to date and is available to pre-save now at <https://hypeddit.com/beyonddisdain/till-death-parts-us-pre-save>.

Beyond Disdain broke out one year ago with the hit single "Everything We Gave," which introduced the band's blend of heavy riffs and haunting vocals to listeners worldwide. A self-titled debut album and the "Bleeding Ever After" EP followed, and in its first year the band has passed 20 million streams across Spotify, Apple Music, YouTube, and other platforms, with hundreds of thousands of monthly listeners on Spotify alone.

"Till Death Parts Us" pushes that momentum into darker, more cinematic territory. Across its 18 tracks, the album confronts grief, memory, loss, obsession, and survival, drawing on the early-2000s hard rock and alternative metal tradition of bands like Paramore, Evanescence, Flyleaf, Breaking Benjamin, and Chevelle while sharpening the sound that fans have streamed in the millions over the past year.

"We've been thrilled by the outpouring of support for this project," said Trevor Anderson, co-producer of Beyond Disdain. "This is the music we grew up listening to. Beyond Disdain has been a passion project going all the way back to middle school, when the band first started with us making songs together as friends in Garage Band. To see it connect with this many people in a single year is humbling. We're so excited to share 'Till Death Parts Us' with the world and our fans and have poured our hearts and souls into the tracks."
