July 2026 Project Highlights

Waterproof flooring remains a top choice for Metro Vancouver homes."

During July, Floors Depot completed:

12 luxury vinyl plank condo flooring projects in strata buildings throughout Burnaby's Metrotown and Brentwood neighbourhoods, as well as Vancouver's Yaletown and Fairview communities.

8 porcelain and ceramic tile flooring projects in kitchens, bathrooms, and entryways of detached homes in North Vancouver and West Vancouver.

5 engineered hardwood flooring projects in detached houses located in South Granville, Arbutus Ridge, and Dunbar.

3 complete multi-room flooring renovation projects including demolition, flooring removal, subfloor preparation, floor levelling, and installation of new flooring throughout condominiums and detached homes.

Many of these projects required careful coordination with strata councils, property managers, elevator reservations, building access schedules, and homeowner occupancy while maintaining efficient project timelines.

Growing Demand for Waterproof Flooring

Waterproof flooring continues to be one of the fastest-growing segments of Metro Vancouver's residential renovation market.

Luxury vinyl plank has become a preferred flooring solution for condominiums and townhomes because of its durability, realistic wood appearance, and resistance to everyday moisture.

Porcelain tile remains a popular choice for bathrooms, kitchens, laundry rooms, and entryways where long-term water resistance and durability are essential.

Specialized Strata Flooring Expertise

Condo flooring renovations require considerably more planning than traditional residential projects.

Floors Depot manages:

- Strata bylaw compliance
- Building access coordination
- Elevator reservations
- Approved working-hour schedules
- Flooring underlay sound-rating documentation
- Insurance certificates
- Material delivery scheduling
- Subfloor inspections and preparation
- Floor transition planning

The company works closely with homeowners, property managers, and strata councils to ensure flooring renovations proceed efficiently while meeting each building's renovation requirements.
