

Transportation Business Owners Run and Grow Their Companies with EverTransit

Company continues to improve its business management and dispatch software for independent transportation providers

TAMPA, FL, UNITED STATES, July 24, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- EverTransit is continuing to modernize its software, giving transportation business owners a simpler and more effective way to manage daily operations and support future growth.

EverTransit brings reservations, dispatching, drivers, customers, billing, pricing, communications, and business accounts together in one system. It is designed for independent transportation companies that want to operate and scale efficiently without relying on multiple disconnected tools.

In 2026 alone, the company has introduced a number of technology and operational improvements focused on system performance, ease of use, and the everyday needs of transportation businesses. Fleets using the software have responded positively to these changes.

"Transportation business owners need technology that helps them manage their companies—not technology that makes their work more complicated," said René Rodriguez, CEO of EverTransit. "Our focus is on making EverTransit more useful, reliable, and easier to operate while giving our customers the tools they need to grow."

EverTransit software includes reservation management, real-time dispatching, driver and passenger applications, customizable pricing, automated communications, reporting, and tools for managing multiple business accounts.

The company continues to aggressively improve the current systems and launch new features.
