MAPLE GROVE, Minn., July 27, 2026 — Every evening, millions of families gather around the dinner table asking the same question: “What’s for dinner?”

For many people, authentic Indian food is something they love to eat but rarely attempt to cook at home because traditional recipes often feel overwhelming. Long ingredient lists, numerous spice jars, complicated preparation, and unfamiliar cooking techniques can make authentic Indian cooking seem intimidating before the first ingredient is even added.

One Minnesota mother believed it didn’t have to be that way.

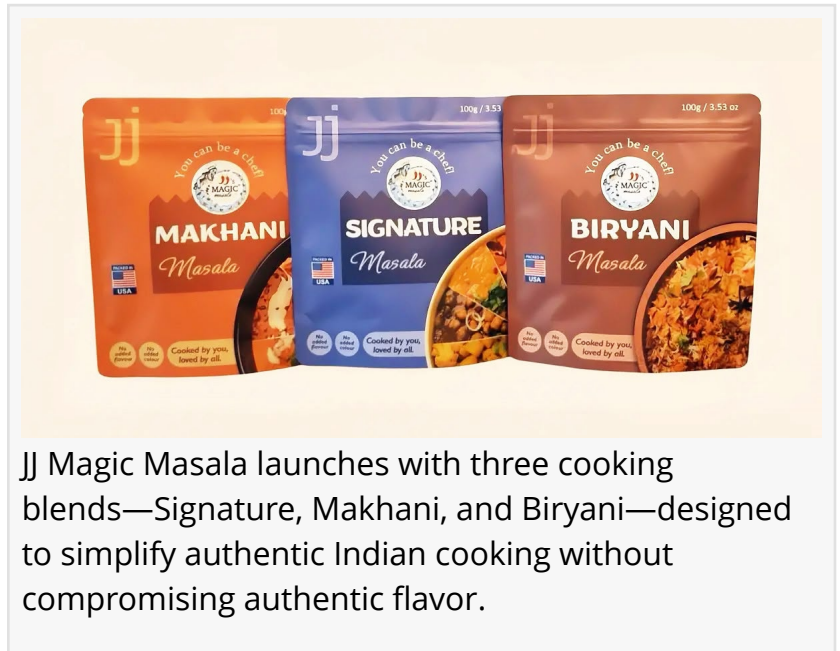

For the past 17 years, Minnesota has been home for Jaya Sondhi and her family. A working mother and IT professional with no background in the food industry, she never imagined she would build a food company. Inspired by the opportunity to build a Minnesota company, she set out to solve a problem she experienced in her own kitchen.

Rather than asking people to become expert cooks, she asked one simple question:

“What if authentic Indian cooking could be simple enough for anyone?”

That question led to nearly two years of recipe development, experimentation, and countless hours in the family kitchen. Family and friends became trusted taste testers as recipes were refined until they delivered authentic flavor through a much simpler cooking process.

Nearly two years later, that one simple question became JJ Magic Masala—a Minnesota company built on one simple belief: authentic Indian cooking should be simple enough for anyone.

JJ Magic Masala launches with three cooking blends—Signature, Makhani, and Biryani—designed to simplify authentic Indian cooking without compromising authentic flavor.

We didn't want to simplify the flavor—we wanted to simplify the process. Our mission is to make authentic Indian cooking approachable without compromising authentic flavor.”

Jaya Sondhi, Founder & CEO, JJ Magic Masala

Every JJ Magic Masala blend is designed to eliminate long spice lists, reduce complicated preparation, and remove technical cooking steps while preserving authentic flavor. The result is a cooking system created for busy parents, young professionals, college students, beginners, and anyone who has ever thought authentic Indian cooking looked too complicated to try.

“We didn’t want to simplify the flavor—we wanted to simplify the process,” said Jaya Sondhi, Founder and CEO of JJ Magic Masala. “Our mission is to make authentic Indian cooking approachable without compromising authentic flavor. If a teenager can confidently prepare an authentic Indian meal at home, we’ve accomplished what we set out to do.”

JJ Magic Masala is built on one simple belief:

Authentic Indian Cooking Shouldn’t Be Complicated.

Its philosophy is reflected in the brand message:

“We’re Not Just Making Spices. We’re Making Chefs.”

JJ Magic Masala officially launched on Amazon on July 25, 2026, with three cooking blends:

Signature — Everyday Favorites. Made Simple.

Makhani — Restaurant Classics. Made Simple.

Biryani — Celebration Meals. Made Simple.

Every product follows the same mission:

Authentic Indian Cooking. Made Simple.

For Jaya, the launch is about more than introducing a new product.

It is about giving people the confidence to cook authentic Indian meals they may have always wanted to make but never believed they could.

Because authentic Indian cooking shouldn’t feel intimidating.

It should feel possible.

And sometimes, one simple question is all it takes to start something extraordinary.
