Manny and Mary Ann King share powerful true stories of redemption, hope, and faith that reveal God's heart for those often overlooked by society.

NEW YORK CITY, NY, UNITED STATES, July 28, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Manny and Mary Ann King introduce The Least of These: Finding Jesus Among the Broken, an inspiring collection of true stories that highlights the transforming power of compassion, faith, and genuine human connection. Drawing from their experiences serving individuals in parks, shelters, prisons, and communities often overlooked, the authors offer readers an authentic glimpse into lives forever changed through love, perseverance, and the hope found in Christ. The book challenges believers to look beyond appearances and embrace a deeper understanding of God's heart for the marginalized.

In The Least of These: Finding Jesus Among the Broken, the Kings recount encounters with individuals whose lives have been shaped by homelessness, addiction, incarceration, rejection, trauma, and profound loss.

Rather than defining people by their circumstances, each story reveals the dignity, resilience, and value present in every individual. Through personal testimonies and biblical reflection, the book demonstrates how compassion, friendship, and faithful presence can become powerful instruments of restoration while reminding readers that every person is deeply loved by God.

Beyond sharing compelling testimonies, the book explores themes of discipleship, mercy, forgiveness, and the importance of building meaningful relationships with those who are often ignored or misunderstood. The Kings encourage readers to move beyond fear, prejudice, and labels in order to see people through the eyes of Christ. Their message emphasizes that lasting change frequently begins with simple acts of kindness and a willingness to walk alongside others with patience and compassion.
