

Logistics Plus Celebrates 30 Years as a Global Leader in Supply Chain Solutions

Erie, PA-based company marks three decades of growth from a single purchase order to nearly $1 billion in revenue and operations in 55+ countries.

ERIE, PA, UNITED STATES, August 5, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Logistics Plus, Inc. (LP), a global leader in transportation, logistics, and unique supply chain solutions, today celebrates its 30th anniversary, marking three decades of growth, innovation, and Passion for Excellence™ that has taken the company from a one-year purchase order in Erie, Pennsylvania to operations spanning more than 55 countries worldwide.

Founded in 1996 by entrepreneur Jim

Berlin with a $120,000 GE Transportation Systems (GETS) purchase order and a small but determined team, Logistics Plus has grown into a nearly $1 billion enterprise with nearly 2,000 employees and a comprehensive portfolio of solutions including transportation management, warehousing and fulfillment, project logistics, international freight forwarding, and proprietary technology solutions.

We had great people, a passion for doing things right, and the belief that a small company in Erie could compete anywhere in the world.”

Jim Berlin

“Thirty years ago, we started on a prayer,” said Berlin, who serves today as Founder and Chairman. “We had great people, a passion for doing things right, and the belief that a small company in Erie could compete anywhere in the world. What this company has become is a testament to every person who has been part of it.”

Headquartered at Union Station in downtown Erie — a historic landmark that Logistics Plus helped rescue and renovate — the company has remained deeply rooted in its home community while building a truly global footprint. With offices and operations across North America, Europe, Asia, the Middle East, and beyond, Logistics Plus serves customers ranging from emerging businesses to Fortune 500 enterprises across virtually every industry.

In May 2026, Logistics Plus announced the promotion of Yuriy Ostapyak to Chief Executive Officer, marking a natural evolution of company leadership after two decades of partnership with Berlin.

Yuriy Ostapyak and Jim Berlin

"Jim built something rare," said Ostapyak. "Not just a successful company, but a culture, a standard, and a genuine passion for excellence that you feel the moment you walk in the door. As we look ahead, we carry that same foundation and those same values into everything that comes next. We are equally excited about what the next 30 years will bring."

The anniversary milestone coincides with a period of significant momentum for Logistics Plus. The company was recently ranked among the Armstrong & Associates Top 50 Domestic Transportation Managers, recognized by Transport Topics as a top 3PL, warehousing firm, and freight broker, and featured on the cover of MBA Business Magazine. Logistics Plus has also earned Great Place to Work® certification for nine consecutive years and holds SOC 2 Type II certification for its customer-facing technology platforms.

To mark the occasion, Logistics Plus has launched a dedicated 30th anniversary page at logisticsplus.com/30years, featuring a commemorative video, company milestones, and a tribute to the people and partners who have been part of the journey. The company will also host an employee celebration event on August 22 in Erie.

"This milestone belongs to our team and to the customers and partners who have trusted us for decades," said Scott Frederick, Chief Marketing Officer. "We are proud of everything we have created here together, and now we are built for what's next."
