

Divine Beauty Society LLC Honored With 2026 Best of South Carolina Award

BEAUFORT, SC, UNITED STATES, August 13, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Divine Beauty Society LLC has been named a 2026 Best of South Carolina Award winner, recognizing the business's commitment to personalized beauty services, client-centered care, and a truly one-on-one experience. Specializing in custom lash extensions, precision brow services, and advanced skincare treatments, Divine Beauty Society LLC has earned a reputation for helping clients look and feel their best through services tailored to their individual features, goals, and comfort level.

What makes the experience especially personal is that every service is performed by Jessica Keenaghan, the sole owner and service provider behind Divine Beauty Society LLC. Clients are not passed between staff members or placed into a standard treatment routine. Instead, they work directly with Jessica from start to finish, allowing each appointment to be thoughtful, consistent, and highly customized.

At the heart of Divine Beauty Society LLC is the belief that beauty is never one-size-fits-all. Every lash set is designed to complement a client's eye shape, lifestyle, and preferences, while detailed brow mapping helps create balance and enhance natural facial features. Jessica also offers customized facials and dermaplaning treatments designed to support healthy, glowing skin. Her dedication to individualized care extends beyond the treatment room through ongoing professional education. Divine Beauty Society LLC is currently completing Face Reality's Level 1 Acne Expert Certification, expanding Jessica's ability to serve clients dealing with acne and other skin concerns.

"Receiving this award is incredibly meaningful because it reflects the trust my clients place in me every day," said Jessica Keenaghan, Owner of Divine Beauty Society LLC. "I get to know each client, understand their goals, and create an experience that feels comfortable, intentional, and completely customized. I'm grateful for the support of my clients and excited to continue growing."

As Divine Beauty Society LLC looks ahead, the focus remains on refining its expertise, expanding skincare knowledge, and delivering results-driven services that prioritize each client's unique needs. Earning the 2026 Best of South Carolina Award marks an important milestone, but for Jessica, the work continues with the same philosophy that built the business: personal care, attention to detail, and a commitment to helping every client feel like the best version of themselves.
