

Child and Family Resource Foundation Named a 2026 Best of South Carolina Award Winner

HARTSVILLE, SC, UNITED STATES, August 17, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Child and Family Resource Foundation has been named a recipient of the 2026 Best of South Carolina Award, recognizing the organization's ongoing commitment to helping children and families access the educational and mental health support they need to succeed. The award highlights organizations that make a meaningful impact in their communities, and for Child and Family Resource Foundation, it reflects years of dedicated service focused on strengthening families across South Carolina.

At a time when many families are balancing academic challenges, emotional well-being, work responsibilities, and everyday pressures, Child and Family Resource Foundation provides support designed to address the bigger picture. The organization takes a comprehensive approach that recognizes the connection between educational success, mental health, family stability, and personal growth. Through educational services and mental health programs, the foundation helps children build confidence, develop coping skills, and create pathways for long-term success while also supporting the families who play a critical role in that journey.

"This recognition is truly an honor because it reflects the trust families place in us every day," said a team member of Child and Family Resource Foundation. "Our team is committed to helping children and families overcome challenges, access meaningful resources, and build stronger futures together. We believe lasting change happens when the entire family has the support needed to thrive, and we're grateful to be part of that process."

The 2026 Best of South Carolina Award serves as a milestone for the organization, but its focus remains firmly on the future. Child and Family Resource Foundation continues to expand opportunities for children and families through programs that foster emotional wellness, educational achievement, and resilience. As the needs of families evolve, the organization remains committed to providing trusted guidance, practical resources, and compassionate support that help South Carolina families move forward with confidence.
