

Tindall Architecture Workshop Earns 2026 Best of South Carolina Regional Award

GREENVILLE, SC, UNITED STATES, September 4, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Tindall Architecture Workshop, a Greenville-based custom residential architecture firm serving clients throughout the Carolinas, Georgia, and Florida, has been named a 2026 Best of South Carolina Regional Award winner. This recognition highlights the firm's thoughtful approach to designing homes that are not only beautiful on paper, but livable, personal, and built around the way people use them.

Led by a husband-and-wife team, Tindall Architecture Workshop focuses on custom residential architecture, including new construction, additions, renovations, and interior architecture. The firm is known for supporting homeowners through their creative process, so the decisions don't feel overwhelming, helping turn big ideas, practical needs, and personal style into spaces that feel both inspired and functional. From early conversations to the many iterations that follow, the team never leaves a client feeling like they are on their own. The team masterfully designs and documents a home crafted by the professionals.

"Our goal has always been to help people love their home in the truest sense," said a Tindall Architecture Workshop team member. "A home should reflect how a family lives, gathers, works, rests, and grows. We're honored by this award as it reflects the trust our clients place in us during such a meaningful time." The firm's work stands out for its balance of creativity, service, and clear communication. Rather than chasing trends, Tindall Architecture Workshop pairs each client's vision with architectural expertise to create homes that feel intentional and deeply personal. As the firm celebrates its 2026 Best of South Carolina Regional Award, Tindall Architecture Workshop remains focused on delivering awe-inspiring residential architecture and unmatched service across the Southeast.
