The project, completed in February 2026, was part of a reported $1.3 million healthcare development located at 207 Westfield Blvd. in Temple, Texas. Royal Signs & Awnings fabricated and installed custom commercial metal canopies designed to complement the facility’s modern healthcare architecture while providing durable exterior coverage, weather protection, and long-term performance.

EBCO General Contractors continues to strengthen its reputation as one of Texas’ established commercial construction firms through its work across healthcare, hospitality, commercial, institutional, and mixed-use sectors. With projects spanning multiple Texas markets, EBCO has become recognized for delivering professionally managed developments that support the continued expansion of healthcare and commercial infrastructure throughout the state.

The West Temple Orthodontics project reflects the type of healthcare developments increasingly shaping fast-growing Central Texas communities. As commercial and healthcare construction activity continues expanding across Texas, demand has also increased for experienced architectural fabrication and installation companies capable of supporting large-scale construction projects with custom exterior metal systems.

Royal Signs & Awnings collaborated closely with EBCO General Contractors throughout the fabrication and installation process for the project's custom canopy systems. The company's scope included architectural metal canopy fabrication, on-site installation, and exterior finishing engineered specifically for healthcare exterior applications.

"Working alongside respected commercial construction companies like EBCO General Contractors allows projects to move efficiently while maintaining high standards for exterior architectural quality," said a spokesperson for Royal Signs & Awnings. "Healthcare and commercial developments across Texas continue driving strong demand for custom metal canopies, aluminum awnings, and architectural exterior systems."

Royal Signs & Awnings provides:

- Commercial metal canopies
- Architectural canopy fabrication
- Canopy installation services
- Aluminum awnings
- ACM canopy systems
- Commercial exterior branding
- Retail storefront canopies
- Healthcare facility canopies
- Custom architectural metal fabrication

The growing partnership between commercial construction firms and specialized architectural fabrication companies continues playing a major role in shaping modern Texas developments.
