Tycha Kimbrough, Founding attorney

Austin Monthly compiles its Top Attorneys list through an online peer nomination survey in which Austin-area lawyers nominate attorneys whose work they have personally observed and whom they would trust with their own or their family's legal needs. The magazine selects the top percentage of vote recipients in each practice area, verifies their standing with the state bar association and does not accept payment for inclusion.

“Being recognized for a sixth year means a great deal to me because it reflects the trust of lawyers who see this work firsthand,” Kimbrough said. “Families come to us when many parts of their lives feel uncertain. Our job is to provide clear guidance, protect what matters most and help them make informed decisions about what comes next.”

Kimbrough provides legal guidance on a wide range of family law matters, including divorce, child custody and conservatorship, child support, property division, marital agreements and parental rights matters.

Kimbrough established Kimbrough Family Law on the principles of providing strategic legal counsel and advocacy tailored to each family's circumstances. The firm serves clients across Central Texas and the Greater Houston area.
