& Commercial Director,
Dexatel*

More than 700 nominations from organizations of all sizes in 37 nations and territories were submitted this year for consideration in a wide range of technology-related categories, including Company of the Year, Educational or Research Institution of the Year, Technical Innovation of the Year, Technology Breakthrough of the Year, and more. Dexatel is a Gold Stevie® Award winner in the Company of the Year – Communication Technology category for its Global Communications Infrastructure Platform.

Dexatel was recognized for helping businesses simplify global customer communications through a unified Communications Platform as a Service \(CPaaS\). Its platform enables organizations to power OTP verification, two-factor authentication (2FA), customer notifications, business messaging, and omnichannel communications across SMS, WhatsApp, Viber, Voice, Telegram, RCS, and Email through a single API and platform.

Trusted by businesses worldwide, Dexatel helps organizations improve customer authentication, maximize message delivery rates, prevent fraud, and scale customer communications with enterprise-grade reliability, transparent pricing, and direct operator connectivity.

"We're honored to receive this recognition from the Stevie Awards," said Gegham Azatyan, Co-founder & Commercial Director at Dexatel. "Winning a Gold Stevie Award is a significant milestone for our team and reflects our commitment to building communications technology that businesses can rely on every day. As digital communications continue to evolve, we'll continue investing in innovation that helps organizations deliver secure authentication, reliable messaging, and exceptional customer experiences."

More than 180 professionals worldwide participated in the judging process to select this year's honorees.

"We congratulate all of the winners in the third annual Stevie® Awards for Technology Excellence for their outstanding achievements," said Stevie Awards President Maggie Miller. "Their innovations are helping shape the future of technology across every industry, and we look forward to celebrating their success on October 28."
