

Reno Med Spa Discusses Regaining a Healthy Glow with Non-Surgical Skin Rejuvenation

M Spa, an award-winning aesthetic practice in Reno, explores the top skin rejuvenation treatments to achieve a healthy, radiant glow without surgery.

RENO, NV, UNITED STATES, August 4, 2026

/EINPresswire.com/ -- As more people than ever discover the powerful skin rejuvenation possible with non-surgical therapies, board-certified Reno plastic surgeon Tiffany McCormack, MD highlights the most advanced minimally invasive skin treatments to restore a healthy, youthful glow. As the founder and Medical Director of M Spa, a premier provider of aesthetic treatments in Northern Nevada, Dr. McCormack delves into the improvements possible with Genius® RF microneedling, Hydrafacial®, and Ultherapy® skin tightening, among other cutting-edge techniques.

For those looking to improve skin texture, Genius® RF microneedling combines the power of the body's natural healing mechanisms with radiofrequency (RF) energy to stimulate comprehensive skin renewal. As controlled micro-injuries are made in treated areas to stimulate natural collagen and elastin production, RF energy is simultaneously delivered beneath the skin's surface to firm and tighten one's complexion. The depth of each needle is adjustable and treatments can be tailored to address fine lines, acne scarring, uneven texture, and mild skin laxity with minimal downtime.

While the results of Genius® RF microneedling unfold gradually with the remodeling of new collagen, Hydrafacial® can offer immediate brightening to a dull skin complexion. Hydrafacial® is a non-invasive and gentle multi-step treatment designed to cleanse, exfoliate, and extract impurities before infusing the facial skin with hydrating serums. As antioxidants and peptides are introduced, the outcome can be a smoother, brighter, and more even skin tone after just one session. Thanks to its ability to refresh without downtime, Hydrafacial® can be a popular option to gain a radiant glow before special events or as part of one's ongoing skincare routine.

Patients experiencing mild to moderate skin laxity may be interested in skin tightening modalities like Ultherapy®, which emits focused ultrasound energy to stimulate collagen production deep within the skin's foundational layers. This non-invasive approach gradually lifts and tightens the skin as collagen production continues, allowing results to build naturally over the next two to three months.

Among the sophisticated diagnostic technology utilized at M Spa is VISIA® Skin Analysis software, which gives patients an accurate, data-driven picture of their skin health. This software can identify common skin concerns like sun damage, pigmentation, large pores, wrinkles, texture issues, and acne, among other conditions invisible to the naked eye for more precise treatment planning. This detailed analysis allows the M Spa team to more closely align a treatment path to each client's specific concerns.

From skin tightening and toning to deep hydration and skin analysis, Dr. McCormack emphasizes that M Spa's approach combines proven technology with a personalized, patient-focused treatment plan. With cutting-edge tools and a comprehensive menu of skincare services, M Spa offers a myriad of potential solutions to restore a bright, healthy glow to the skin.
