Museum and visitor center staff completed specialized autism and sensory training to better support autistic and sensory-sensitive visitors and their families.

MIAMI, FL, UNITED STATES, August 4, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Known as the world's largest outdoor street art museum and a global destination for contemporary urban art, Wynwood Walls Museum is now a Certified Autism Center™ (CAC). This designation, awarded by the International Board of Credentialing and Continuing Education Standards (IBCCES), recognizes organizations where at least 80% of guest-facing staff complete specialized autism and sensory training and certification. Museum and visitor center staff have been equipped with the knowledge and skills to better welcome and support autistic and sensory-sensitive visitors and their families.

In addition to staff training, IBCCES conducted an onsite review of the Wynwood Walls Museum to develop sensory guides and provide additional recommendations to help enhance accessibility and create a more inclusive experience for all guests.

"I know first-hand about welcoming young people with special abilities to an environment of creativity and

smiles and pure joy. I am thrilled that the Wynwood Walls is a place that openly welcomes the autism community."

Certification not only enhances staff knowledge but also fosters a strategic, big-picture impact that transcends quarterly results and fundamentally strengthens the brand by enhancing the organization's reputation and differentiation and creating a culture of excellence, all working together to build long-term institutional value.

Home to one of the world's most celebrated outdoor street art collections, Wynwood Walls Museum welcomes visitors from around the globe to experience creativity through its ever-evolving murals and public art. As a CAC, the museum is helping ensure those experiences are more accessible to autistic and sensory-sensitive visitors and their families.

"Art has the power to inspire, connect, and bring people together, and every visitor should have the opportunity to experience it in an environment where they feel welcomed and supported," says Myron Pincomb, IBCCES board chairman. "By becoming a Certified Autism Center™, Wynwood Walls Museum is expanding access to one of Miami's most iconic cultural experiences while advancing Greater Miami's vision of becoming a Certified Autism Destination™."

Wynwood Walls Museum becoming certified is another step in a larger initiative for the Greater Miami area to become a Certified Autism Destination™ (CAD), led by the Greater Miami Convention & Visitors Bureau (GMCVB). The CAD designation means visitors have multiple locations featuring trained personnel and certified options available in the area, including entertainment, recreation, and lodging.
