Since implementing Power Tee, Leatherman Golf Learning Center has experienced substantial revenue growth while also improving operational efficiency and customer satisfaction. The automated tee-up technology allows golfers to focus more on enjoying their practice sessions and entertainment experience without interruptions.

“Power Tee has absolutely helped elevate our business,” said Chris Leatherman, Owner of Leatherman Golf Learning Center. "We've seen revenue growth of more than 25 percent since adding Power Tee, and it's become a major part of creating the premium experience our customers expect today.

"One of the things we appreciated most was the ability to lease the system instead of making a large upfront capital investment. That flexibility made the decision much easier for us and allowed us to modernize the range without a significant initial expense."

Power Tee has become increasingly popular at golf facilities looking to modernize their operations and create more engaging entertainment-focused experiences for customers. The system automatically tees up the golf ball for each shot, helping facilities improve pace of play, increase bucket sales, attract more visitors, and enhance the overall player experience.

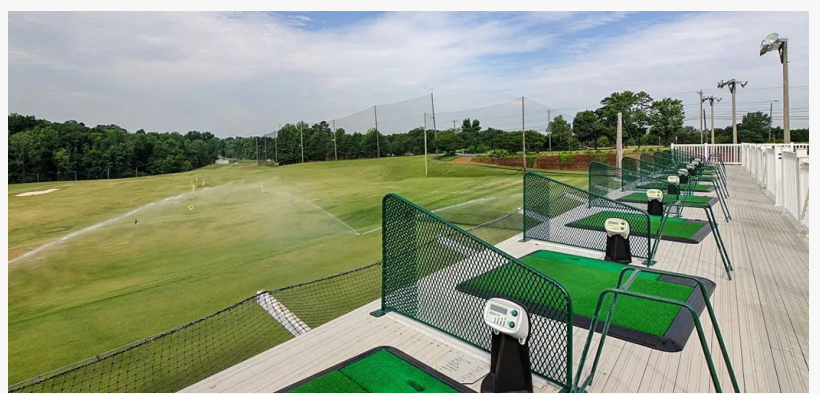

"Facilities like Leatherman Golf Learning Center are redefining what the modern golf experience looks like," said Martin Wyeth, founder and owner of Power Tee. "Today's customers want more than just a traditional driving range. They want technology, convenience, entertainment, and a premium overall experience. Chris and his team have done an outstanding job creating a destination that delivers exactly that."

As golf entertainment continues to grow in popularity, facilities across the industry are increasingly investing in technologies and attractions that help differentiate their venues and drive long-term customer engagement. Leatherman Golf Learning Center's continued success demonstrates how combining innovative technology with a welcoming entertainment atmosphere can create meaningful business growth.
