

First-Rate Moving & Storage Helps Andover Families Beat the Back-to-School Move-In Deadline

Local mover offers same-day scheduling and flat-rate pricing through the region's busiest relocation weeks, ahead of the September 2 start of school

ANDOVER, MA, UNITED STATES, August 5, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ANDOVER, Mass., Aug. 5,

Families do not want moving day to collide with the first day of school. We built our same-day service so a family can close on a house in the morning and sleep in their new bedroom that night.”

2026 -- First-Rate Moving & Storage today announced expanded same-day moving and storage availability through Labor Day weekend. The added capacity targets families racing to relocate before Andover Public Schools open for the 2026-2027 school year on September 2.

The weeks before the first day of class are the busiest of the year for local movers. Families who buy or sell a home in late summer want the move finished before classes start. First-Rate Moving & Storage built its same-day service option to meet that deadline.

First-Rate Moving & Storage prices every job with a single flat quote and charges no hidden fees. The company's crew has more than ten years of combined experience packing and transporting fragile items, including antiques, artwork, and electronics.

First-Rate Moving & Storage offers three tips for families relocating before the school year starts:

Book moving and storage services at least three weeks before the target move date. Late-summer slots fill quickly.

Pack a labeled box of school supplies, uniforms, and enrollment paperwork separately, and load it last so it comes off the truck first.

Use short-term storage to bridge the gap when a new home's closing date falls after the school year begins.

First-Rate Moving & Storage is accepting bookings for same-day and scheduled moves in Andover through the end of September. Families can request a quote by phone or through the company's website.
