PHOENIX, AZ, UNITED STATES, August 6, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Elite Video, a national video production company with operations across the United States, has launched full-service video production operations in Phoenix, Arizona. The expansion brings corporate video production, event videography, commercial content, drone videography, live streaming, and professional photography services to businesses, organizations, and event planners throughout the Phoenix metropolitan area including Scottsdale, Tempe, Mesa, Chandler, and the greater Valley.

Elite Video launches full-service video production in Phoenix, AZ, providing corporate video production and event videography for businesses across the Valley.

Phoenix has emerged as one of the fastest-growing corporate and convention markets in the Southwest. The city's expanding technology sector, thriving healthcare industry, and active convention calendar have created increasing demand for professional video production services from businesses that need broadcast-quality content to compete in a crowded digital landscape.

Phoenix was a natural next step for us. Businesses here need the same caliber of video production that companies in Orlando and New York have access to.”

Jacob Becker, Owner, Elite Video

"Phoenix was a natural next step for us," said Jacob Becker, owner of Elite Video. "The corporate and event activity in the Valley has been accelerating for years. Businesses here need the same caliber of video production that companies in Orlando and New York have access to, and that is exactly what we are bringing to this market."

Elite Video of Phoenix is based at 2942 N 24th St, Suite 566, Phoenix, AZ 85016 and serves the entire Phoenix metropolitan area. The local production team provides a full range of video production services including corporate brand videos, executive interviews, training and onboarding content, product demonstrations, recruitment videos, conference keynote capture, trade show coverage, same-day highlight reels, television commercials, social media content, and real estate listing videos.

The company has already begun producing content for clients in the Phoenix market, including recent work for eBay at a major event activation. Elite Video brings a national client portfolio that includes Walmart Health, Bosch Security, GQ Magazine, and dozens of businesses across multiple industries. That depth of experience across high-profile clients translates into professional-grade production standards, efficient project management, and consistently strong results for every Phoenix client.

Event videography and conference coverage represent a significant area of opportunity for the company in the Phoenix market. The Phoenix Convention Center and surrounding resort properties in Scottsdale and Tempe host hundreds of corporate conferences, trade shows, association meetings, and organizational events each year. Elite Video's event production team provides multi-camera coverage, professional wireless audio capture, and fast-turnaround editing including same-day highlight reels for multi-day events.

Elite Video provides multi-camera event videography and conference coverage at the Phoenix Convention Center and resort venues across Scottsdale and Tempe.

Elite Video of Phoenix delivers broadcast-quality corporate video production for businesses across the Phoenix metropolitan area using 4K cinema-grade equipment.

"Event planners in Phoenix have told us they struggle to find a local video production company that can handle the scale and speed that major conferences demand," Becker added. "We built our event videography operation specifically for that type of high-pressure environment where there are no second takes. That is where we thrive."

The company also provides commercial video production in Phoenix for businesses looking to elevate their advertising, social media presence, and digital marketing efforts. From television commercials and YouTube pre-roll ads to branded content and product videos, Elite Video produces commercial content shot in 4K and edited to drive engagement and conversions across every platform.

Every Elite Video production in Phoenix is executed using 4K cinema-grade camera systems, professional lighting rigs, and wireless broadcast audio equipment. The company's post-production team handles color grading, sound design, motion graphics, branded graphics, and multi-format delivery optimized for websites, social media platforms, email campaigns, sales presentations, and broadcast distribution.

The Phoenix launch is part of Elite Video's broader national expansion strategy. The company currently operates full-service production teams in Orlando, Tampa, Phoenix, Buffalo, Rochester, and Austin, with additional crew availability in markets across the country. Each location operates with the same equipment standards, production workflows, and quality benchmarks, ensuring clients receive consistent results regardless of which market their project is in.

Businesses and organizations in the Phoenix area interested in corporate video production, event videography, or other video production services can visit the company's website or contact the team directly for a free consultation and custom quote.
