

Alliance Moving & Storage Reaches 238 Yelp Reviews After Two Decades of Service Across Chicagoland

ROLLING MEADOWS, IL, UNITED STATES, August 6, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Alliance Moving & Storage, a family-operated moving company based at 3201 Tollview Drive in Rolling Meadows, Illinois, has reached 238 reviews on Yelp. The milestone was built over more than two decades of residential, commercial, and long-distance moving operations across Chicago and over 40 surrounding suburbs.

238 Reviews Earned Across Two Decades of Chicagoland Moves

Alliance Moving & Storage started in Elk Grove Village with one truck and a crew of three people. The company now operates a fleet of 20+ trucks out of two locations, the Rolling Meadows headquarters and a second facility at 4305 N. Lincoln Avenue in Chicago, with a staff of 80+ full-time, background-checked employees. None of them are temporary or day laborers.

A perfect 5.0 rating from eight reviews may look impressive, but it offers only a small snapshot. Hundreds of reviews earned over decades of service tell a different story: that a company has consistently delivered for customers over time.

Each of those 238 Yelp reviews reflects a real move: a family packing up a four-bedroom home in Arlington Heights, a college student relocating to a studio near Wrigleyville, a medical office shifting to a new suite in Schaumburg. The common thread running through the feedback isn't perfection. It is reliability, upfront pricing, and care with belongings.

Yelp's Review Filter Adds a Layer of Credibility

Review counts only matter when they come from verified, uncontrolled platforms. Yelp's recommendation algorithm is designed to filter reviews it identifies as potentially unreliable, including those that appear incentivized or inauthentic. The 238 reviews currently visible on Alliance Moving & Storage's profile have survived that filter.

They weren't solicited through discount offers, gift cards, or post-move emails with direct review links. They represent organic customer sentiment, posted without prompting from the company.

That distinction is significant for homeowners researching moving companies in the Chicago suburbs. A residential move involves trusting strangers with everything you own, from a grandfather clock passed down through three generations to the box of school artwork your kids refuse to throw away.

The decision typically starts with a search engine, and the next step is almost always a check of third-party review platforms. When a prospective customer lands on Alliance's Yelp profile and sees 238 reviews with consistent themes, including on-time arrivals, transparent quotes, and careful handling of furniture and fragile items, that conveys something a company-run testimonials page cannot.

The moving industry has a well-documented reputation problem. Rogue operators, bait-and-switch pricing, and held-hostage shipments make national news every summer. In that landscape, a two-decade-old company with 238 unsolicited Yelp reviews and a high positive rate is doing something worth noting.

Strong Reputation Across Google, Facebook, and BBB

Yelp is only one piece of a larger picture. Alliance Moving & Storage holds high ratings across every major review platform where customers leave feedback, including Google, Facebook, and the Better Business Bureau. The BBB lists Alliance as an A+ accredited business with its Complaint-Free Award, a distinction given only to accredited companies that maintain zero formal complaints over a consecutive period. Expertise.com has named the company a "Best Mover in Chicago," and moveBuddha ranks Alliance #1 among Chicago moving companies.

For over 20 years, Alliance Moving & Storage has operated with a direct approach: show up on time, give honest quotes, treat every household item like it belongs to your own family, and fix problems the moment they surface. The 238th Yelp review isn't a finish line; it's proof that the approach works, one move at a time.
