

MulchCalculator.com Launches Free Website Widget That Lets Landscapers Add a Mulch Calculator in Under Two Minutes

Free embeddable calculator installs in under two minutes and helps businesses provide instant mulch estimates without sending visitors to another website.

HACKENSACK, NJ, UNITED STATES, August 6, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- MulchCalculator.com today announced the launch of its free Mulch Calculator Widget, giving landscapers, garden centers, mulch suppliers, and other businesses an easy way to add a professional mulch calculator directly to their websites.

The widget helps homeowners estimate the amount of mulch needed for their landscaping projects based on bed dimensions, making it easier to plan purchases before visiting a store or requesting a quote. Unlike many online calculators that redirect users away from a business's website, the MulchCalculator.com widget keeps visitors on the publisher's site throughout the entire calculation process.

The widget is available free of charge and can be requested at:
<https://www.mulchcalculator.com/widgets.php>

Installation takes less than two minutes using a simple HTML embedded code and works with virtually any website.

Since launching the calculator on MulchCalculator.com, tens of thousands of mulch calculations have already been completed by homeowners across the United States, demonstrating demand for simple online landscaping tools.

The widget is designed for:

- Landscape contractors
- Garden centers
- Mulch suppliers
- Nurseries
- Home improvement retailers
- Municipal and educational gardening websites

Why Offer a Mulch Calculator?

Homeowners frequently search online to determine how much mulch they need before making a purchase. Providing an on-site calculator helps answer one of the most common questions customers have while reducing the need for manual estimates.

Interactive website tools can also improve visitor engagement by encouraging users to actively interact with a website instead of simply reading static content. Personalized calculators provide immediate value by generating results specific to each visitor's project.

Features:

- Free to use.
- Installs in under two minutes.
- Mobile-friendly
- Calculate square footage.
- Estimates cubic yards and mulch bags.
- Hosted and maintained by MulchCalculator.com
- Works nationwide
- Simple copy-and-paste installation.

Businesses can request access through the widget page. Once approved, they receive a unique embedded code that can be added to virtually any website.
