

Old Magnolia CBD Launches New Website, Bringing Maryland-Grown, Farm-to-Bottle CBD Online

New online store showcases products cultivated with intention and a deep respect for the land.

MARRIOTTSVILLE, MD, UNITED STATES, August 10, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Old Magnolia CBD today announced the launch of its new website, oldmagnoliacbd.com, offering customers direct access to premium CBD products grown and crafted on the company's own farm in Maryland. The launch marks a significant step in the brand's mission to bring honest, thoughtfully cultivated CBD to the market.

Every Old Magnolia CBD product begins the same way: as a seed, planted in Maryland soil and raised without shortcuts. The company's approach is rooted in traditional farming values – good soil, clean water, ample sunlight, and patience. Paired with rigorous standards that ensure consistency and quality at scale, the result is a line of CBD products that customers can trust, batch after batch.

Farming is a lifestyle and a continuation of all those who came before us who were stewards of the land...We continue that tradition now with Old Magnolia CBD.”

Randy Sullivan

"Our philosophy is simple: good soil, sun, water, and lots of love and pure intention. No BS, no chemicals, just healthy plants," said Randy Sullivan, owner of Old Magnolia CBD. "That's the difference. Every product starts as a seed and is made with plants grown just the way Mother Nature intended them to be."

Sullivan's path to founding Old Magnolia CBD was not a conventional one. Rather than inheriting a family farming operation, he built one from the ground up after discovering a passion for sustainable agriculture later in life.

"I didn't grow up in an agricultural family or have exposure to farming until I met someone who introduced me to sustainable agriculture, and this is where the Old Magnolia journey began," Sullivan said. "Farming is a lifestyle and a continuation of all those who came before us who were stewards of the land – a vision I held for many years in search of a piece of land and learning how to cultivate it. And along the way, I discovered the amazing capability of the cannabis plant. We continue that tradition now with Old Magnolia CBD."

That commitment to land stewardship and product integrity is now available to customers through the company's new website. Oldmagnoliacbd.com gives visitors a transparent look at how Old Magnolia's products are grown, sourced, and made, alongside an accessible shopping experience designed for both longtime CBD users and first-time buyers.

The new site features the company's full product line, details on farming practices, and educational resources to help customers make informed decisions about the CBD products they bring into their lives. Every product is backed by the same standard, from seed to store. The quality that starts at the seed carries through to the final bottle.

Old Magnolia CBD is built on a simple idea that the best products come from the most careful hands. As the brand grows its national footprint, it remains grounded in the same values that started it all: patience, land stewardship, and a refusal to cut corners.
