

Chad Gott Invites Readers To Walk With God In Transformative 50-Day Devotional

Who God Is, How God Sees Us combines Scripture, prayer, reflection, and daily walking to help readers deepen their faith and embrace their God-given identity.

NEW YORK CITY, NY, UNITED STATES, August 7, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Author Chad Gott introduces a meaningful path toward spiritual growth in his new devotional, Who God Is, How God Sees Us: 50 Days / 50 Miles: Knowing God and Knowing Who You Are. Designed as a 50-day walking journey through Scripture, the book encourages readers to slow down, spend intentional time with God, and discover the truth about His character and their identity in Him.

Each daily reading includes Scripture, a personal reflection, prayer, journaling guidance, and a simple walking focus. Through this thoughtful structure, readers are invited to move through the Bible from Genesis to Revelation, one day and one mile at a time. The devotional offers an accessible rhythm for people seeking to strengthen their relationship with God while incorporating movement, reflection, and prayer into their daily lives.

At the heart of the book are two important questions: Who is God, and how does God see me? Gott guides readers through biblical truths that reveal God as faithful, loving, gracious, merciful, holy, present, and good. At the same time, the devotional reminds readers that they are created by God, loved by the Father, redeemed through Jesus Christ, adopted into His family, and called to live in truth.

The inspiration behind the devotional comes from the belief that spiritual transformation often happens through consistent, intentional steps. Rather than encouraging readers to rush toward completion, Gott presents the journey as an opportunity to walk closely with God, receive the truth of His Word, and develop a healthier understanding of personal identity.

The book is especially relevant for readers who feel burdened by past mistakes, fear, disappointment, insecurity, or the opinions of others. Its message challenges the idea that identity must be determined by failure or circumstance. Instead, readers are encouraged to see themselves through the loving and redemptive perspective presented throughout Scripture.

Gott's clear and encouraging approach makes the devotional suitable for individuals, walking groups, church communities, and anyone seeking a practical spiritual routine. Its memorable framework, one Scripture, one prayer, one mile, and one day, provides readers with a simple way to remain focused and engaged.
