

Armada Law Injury Attorneys Donates 20 Stocked Backpacks to Support United Way of Greenville County's School Campaign

Greenville-based personal injury firm contributes $2,000 in school supplies to help Greenville County students start the school year ready to learn.

GREENVILLE, SC, UNITED STATES, August 7, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Armada Law Injury Attorneys is proud to announce its first partnership with United Way of Greenville County in support of the organization's annual School Tools campaign. On Friday, July 31, the attorneys of Armada Law dropped off $2000 worth of school supplies spread across 20 backpacks. Each filled with the supplies elementary school students need to walk into their first day of school with confidence.

The backpacks were distributed at United Way of Greenville County's School Tools event on Saturday, August 1, at Carolina High School (2725 Anderson Road, Greenville, SC 29611), a free, family-friendly event that ran from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The event aimed to provide backpacks and school supplies to elementary, middle, and high school students across Greenville County, with an overall community goal of reaching 3,500 students. United Way announced that they ended up handing out over 4,100 backpacks.

Each backpack donated by Armada Law Injury Attorneys was packed with:

The partnership was initiated by Community & Operations Manager Kelley Lozada, and marks the beginning of what the firm hopes will be an ongoing relationship with United Way of Greenville County.

"One of our core values at Armada Law is to Be the Change, and that means taking action where we can make a real difference," said Attorney Timothy H. Nicolette. "Supporting United Way's School Tools campaign is about more than donating backpacks. It's about helping local students start the school year with confidence and the resources they need to succeed. We're proud to invest in the future of our community, one student at a time."

At Armada Law Injury Attorneys, community involvement is not just an add-on. It is part of how the firm operates. The team believes that removing obstacles before they become barriers, whether in a personal injury case or in a child's classroom, is what it means to genuinely serve the people of South Carolina.
