

SingerLewak to Host Two-Day Training on Government Accounting and Financial Reporting

Course led by Brad Bingenheimer covers GASB reporting fundamentals for state and local government finance professionals

SALEM, OR, UNITED STATES, August 7, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SingerLewak, LLP, a Top 100 accounting and business consulting firm, will present "Government Accounting and Financial Reporting Essentials," a two-day training on governmental accounting and financial reporting under Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) standards, on August 18-19, 2026, at its Salem office.

The course is designed for professionals in government finance, auditing, accounting, and consulting who work with state and local government reporting requirements. Brad Bingenheimer, an instructor with extensive experience in governmental accounting, presents it.

Participants will learn how governmental accounting evolved, why government financial reporting differs from business reporting, and how funds, budgets, basis of accounting, and financial statements work together. The training also covers governmental reporting requirements, budget-to-actual reporting, fund and government-wide financial statements, required supplementary information, disclosures, and non-GAAP presentation options.
