Award Recognises FD Beck's Client-Focused Service

The Quality Business Awards recognise Australian businesses that demonstrate high standards of quality, customer service and reputation.

Businesses must achieve an overall quality score of at least 95% to qualify. According to the award organisation, fewer than 1% of registered Australian businesses receive this recognition.

FD Beck's 2026 award reflects the service standards its team aims to maintain throughout the insurance process, from initial enquiries and policy reviews to renewals and claims assistance.

Insurance arrangements can involve detailed policy terms, exclusions, limits and coverage options. FD Beck works with clients to understand their activities, identify relevant risks and consider insurance options suited to their circumstances.

The brokerage provides support across several stages of the insurance process, including assessing risk exposures, obtaining quotations, explaining policy documentation, arranging cover, managing renewals and assisting clients with claims.

Receiving the award represents an important milestone for FD Beck while reinforcing its continued focus on clear communication, responsive service and practical insurance support.

How Quality Business Award Winners Are Assessed

Quality Business Awards Australia uses a multi-stage assessment process to evaluate nominated businesses.

The process includes analysing customer feedback and business reputation across multiple review platforms. The findings are then manually reviewed before qualifying businesses are notified.

Assessment areas may include customer satisfaction, service quality, responsiveness, professional reputation and a business's commitment to continued improvement.

This approach allows the award organisation to consider a broader range of feedback rather than relying on one review platform or an individual customer experience.

FD Beck was recognised as the leading insurance broker in the City of Bayside after meeting the award organisation's required quality standard for 2026.

Supporting Businesses Across Bayside and Melbourne

FD Beck works with businesses across a wide range of professions and industries throughout Bayside, Melbourne and wider Australia.

Insurance requirements can vary depending on a business's activities, premises, workforce, equipment, customer interactions, contractual responsibilities and plans for growth.

FD Beck works with clients to understand these factors and arrange insurance programs that reflect their individual circumstances.

The brokerage assists businesses with general insurance products including professional indemnity insurance, commercial property insurance, management liability insurance, cyber insurance and business insurance.

Businesses seeking information about insurance relating to interactions with customers, suppliers, contractors and members of the public can visit FD Beck's public liability insurance page.

FD Beck combines personalised service with access to insurance products and markets for businesses with different operations and risk profiles.

Recognition Shared With the FD Beck Team and Clients

FD Beck credits the award to the knowledge, professionalism and commitment of its team. Each team member contributes to the client experience, from identifying insurance requirements and obtaining quotations to arranging policies, managing renewals and assisting with claims.

The brokerage has also thanked its clients for choosing FD Beck and sharing feedback about their experiences.

Client feedback helps the business understand where it is delivering value and identify opportunities to continue improving its service.

The trust placed in FD Beck by its clients remains central to the brokerage's approach to insurance broking and client support.

Building on the 2026 Recognition

The risks faced by Australian businesses continue to evolve as technology, regulation, liability exposures and insurance market conditions change.

FD Beck will continue to monitor these developments, maintain relationships with insurers and review client insurance programs as their operations and circumstances evolve.

The brokerage intends to build on its recognition as the Best Insurance Broker in the City of Bayside by continuing to provide clear advice, responsive communication and professional insurance support.
