1LUX™ Makes Strategic Investment in Sourcery Platform to Accelerate Digital Transformation of Lighting Industry

Partnership pairs 1LUX's industry expertise with Sourcery's platform for discovering, curating and specifying lighting products

DENVER, CO, UNITED STATES, August 10, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- 1LUX today announced a strategic investment and partnership with Sourcery, a digital platform that helps architects, lighting designers and specificers find the right products, create accurate lighting schedules, and coordinate directly with manufacturers in one connected workflow. The partnership will support Sourcery's technology development and market expansion while helping accelerate the lighting industry's adoption of more connected digital tools and product data.

"Sourcery is addressing a longstanding challenge in the lighting industry by making it easier for designers, architects and specifiers to find, evaluate and coordinate the right products for every project," said Brian Stern, CEO of 1LUX. "We believe its platform brings digital transformation to typical sourcing activities, and by contributing our industry knowledge, technology expertise and wide range of relationships, we can help Sourcery become an even more powerful platform for their clients."

Sourcery integrates product information from manufacturers into a single platform, streamlining a selection process that has traditionally relied on multiple catalogs, specification sheets and manual research. In September, Sourcery will launch its new V3 platform, which uses proprietary AI technology to give designers, architects and specifiers a more efficient way to identify and evaluate lighting solutions for their projects.

Through the partnership, 1LUX will support Sourcery's technology development, including platform integrations, product data initiatives and workflows that improve how manufacturers, designers and specifiers share and use product information. 1LUX will also support Sourcery's market expansion through industry relationships, market expertise and go-to-market collaborations.

“This partnership gives Sourcery both the resources and industry expertise to accelerate our next phase of growth,” said Paul Boken, CEO and co-founder of Sourcery. “With 1LUX’s support, we can make it easier for the lighting community – including the rep and distribution partners at the center of it – to connect around the information.”

About 1LUX
1LUX is a Denver-based lighting company delivering unexpected ingenuity across lighting products, logistics, and project solutions. Its portfolio spans Sage Brands, LOGIQ, the revolutionary CLIQ Modular Lighting, Interim Temporary Lighting systems, and SHIFT Innovations, 1LUX's solutions incubator. Across every brand, 1LUX focuses on simplifying systems, reducing friction, and creating measurable value for clients at every stage of a lighting project. Learn more at 1lux.lighting.

About Sourcery
Sourcery is a spec-first product management system built for the lighting industry. Designed by and for designers, it brings product discovery, specification, collaboration and project coordination into one connected workflow. Users can find and organize products, build lighting schedules, track changes and issue coordinated packages using verified manufacturer data. Sourcery helps designers, agents and manufacturers work together more efficiently, with greater clarity at every stage of a project.

Kate Stuard
1LUX
kate@dsjstrat.com

---