HIGHLANDS RANCH, Colo. — July 2026 — Pinnacle Chiropractic and Spinal Rehab Center of Highlands Ranch has been named Best of the Best in the Chiropractor category by readers of the Highlands Ranch Herald, marking the 15th time the practice has earned the community-voted recognition.

The 2026 award reflects nearly two decades of serving Highlands Ranch and surrounding communities with conservative, evidence-informed chiropractic care and rehabilitation. Founded in 2007 by Dr. Aaron Casselman, Pinnacle Chiropractic has become one of the area's longest-established chiropractic and spinal rehabilitation practices, helping patients recover from injuries, reduce pain, restore function, and improve long-term musculoskeletal health.

Receiving this award for the fifteenth time is an incredible honor because it comes directly from the Highlands Ranch community we've proudly served since 2007.”

Unlike practices that focus solely on spinal adjustments, Pinnacle Chiropractic integrates chiropractic care with rehabilitation and advanced non-surgical treatment technologies to address both the source of pain and the functional limitations that contribute to recurring problems. Treatment plans are individualized based on each patient's condition, goals, examination findings, and diagnosis.

The clinic provides care for patients experiencing neck pain, back pain, herniated and bulging discs, sciatica, headaches, sports injuries, whiplash, auto accident injuries, plantar fasciitis, neuropathy, and other musculoskeletal conditions. Services include chiropractic adjustments, spinal rehabilitation, corrective exercise, non-surgical spinal decompression, Class IV laser therapy, shockwave therapy, physiotherapy, and injury rehabilitation.

The Best of the Best award is determined through voting by members of the Highlands Ranch community, making the recognition especially meaningful to the Pinnacle Chiropractic team.

"Receiving this award for the fifteenth time is an incredible honor because it comes directly from the community we have proudly served since 2007," said Dr. Aaron Casselman, founder of Pinnacle Chiropractic and Spinal Rehab Center of Highlands Ranch. "Our team is committed to combining compassionate care, clinical experience, and evidence-informed rehabilitation to help every patient move better, feel better, and return to the activities that matter most."

Throughout its history, Pinnacle Chiropractic has emphasized conservative treatment options designed to help patients avoid unnecessary medications or surgery whenever appropriate. The clinic continually invests in modern rehabilitation technology and evidence-informed treatment approaches while maintaining a personalized, one-on-one patient experience.

Patients travel to Pinnacle Chiropractic from throughout Highlands Ranch, Littleton, Lone Tree, Parker, Castle Rock, Centennial, and the greater Denver metropolitan area for care ranging from acute injuries to chronic spine conditions and performance-focused rehabilitation. The practice is also recognized for treating runners, active adults, and individuals recovering from motor vehicle accidents and work-related injuries.

In addition to being voted Best of the Best Chiropractor fifteen times by readers of the Highlands Ranch Herald, Pinnacle Chiropractic has received recognition through the Colorado Community Media Gold Daisy Awards and has been featured as a chiropractic expert on FOX31 Denver, reflecting the practice's longstanding reputation for clinical excellence and patient-centered care.

"Our mission has never been simply to relieve pain," Dr. Casselman added. "Our goal is to help people regain function, understand the cause of their condition, and build lasting health through individualized treatment and rehabilitation."

As Pinnacle Chiropractic celebrates its fifteenth Best of the Best recognition, the practice remains committed to delivering personalized care while continuing to serve Highlands Ranch with advanced chiropractic treatment, spinal rehabilitation, and non-surgical solutions for musculoskeletal pain and injury.
