

Recruiting for Good Launches Luxury Wellness Rewards to Fund LA Girls' Mentorships

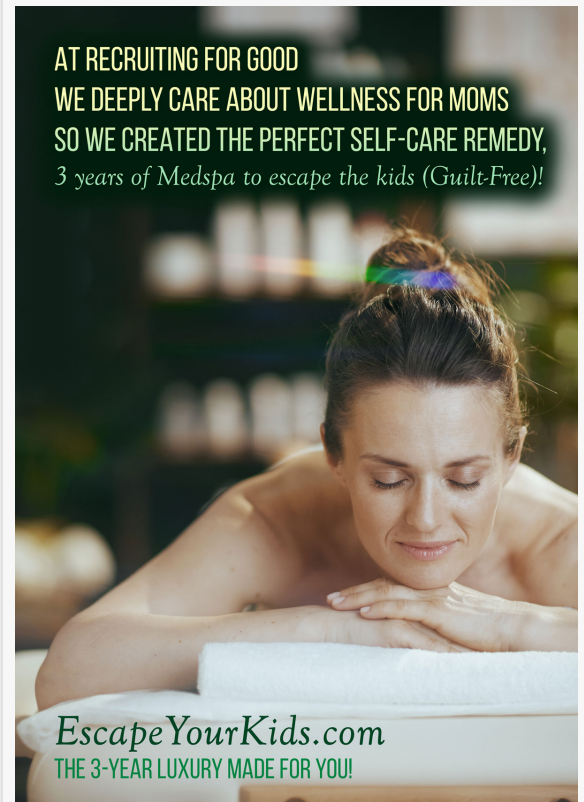

Los Angeles staffing agency transforms traditional corporate recruitment fees into funding for "The Sweetest Gigs," unlocking elite wellness benefits for women.

SANTA MONICA, CA, UNITED STATES, August 11, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- — Recruiting for Good, a premier boutique staffing agency based in Santa Monica, today announced a new community initiative connecting luxury wellness rewards with youth empowerment. The innovative campaign introduces premium lifestyle incentives to fully fund specialized, year-long paid mentorship gigs for exceptionally talented local girls.

How Corporate Referrals Fund "The Sweetest Gigs"

The initiative operates by converting traditional corporate recruitment fees into direct community funding. When professionals introduce a human resources leader or executive decision-maker to Recruiting for Good, a successful talent placement triggers a $3,000 donation. This funding entirely sponsors a year-long personal mentoring leadership program for a local girl through "The Sweetest Gigs," utilizing the agency's flagship Girls Design Tomorrow™ methodology.

"We love to celebrate professional women while preparing next-generation girls for future life and leadership milestones," said Carlos Cymerman, Founder of Recruiting for Good. "To honor the impact of your corporate introduction, we invite you to direct this funding personally by nominating a daughter (granddaughter), niece, or close friend's daughter in the 1st to 5th grade for a year of dedicated personal mentorship. These year-long mentorships and paid work assignments give exceptional girls a foundational edge that lasts a lifetime, instilling critical workforce values early on—including patience, positivity, and perseverance—while successful referrers are also celebrated with three $1,000 gift cards for Medspa treatments, in-home massages, or private Pilates sessions."

The campaign is entirely self-funded through Recruiting for Good's core business activity of connecting companies with elite professional talent. High-achieving professional women in Los Angeles who believe in lifting as they rise can participate immediately to secure their rewards and invest directly in the next generation of female leaders.

The Path to Elite Wellness and Purposeful Mentorship

Through this exclusive referral program, professionals who introduce hiring managers or corporate executives unlock entry into an exclusive community alongside elite, customized three-year wellness rewards. Upon a successful placement, participants secure a coveted membership to The Brentwood Social Club LA and earn their choice of three premier, high-demand luxury reward packages:
