

Texas Slab Guys Launches NewDriveway™, an AI-Powered Driveway Visualization Tool

NewDriveway™ lets homeowners see their future driveway. Texas Slab Guys is an industry leader pairing premium concrete solutions with modern technology.

HOUSTON, TX, UNITED STATES, August 11, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- For most homeowners, replacing a driveway starts with a leap of faith. The old slab is cracked, stained, or sinking, and you know you want something better — but there is no way to see what "better" actually looks like on your own property until a crew shows up, tears out concrete, and pours something new.

Jeff Price, CEO, Texas Slab Guys

Texas Slab Guys is closing that gap — with something no other concrete company in the market can offer. The company has launched NewDriveway™, an industry-leading, AI-powered visualization tool built to disrupt an industry that has never given homeowners this kind of clarity, showing them exactly what a new driveway will look like on their own property before a single yard of concrete is poured.

How NewDriveway™ Works

The tool follows a simple, three-step process. Homeowners visit the NewDriveway™ page, upload a current photo of their existing driveway, and enter basic contact information. Within moments, they are shown their own property, rendered with a brand-new driveway in place. No sketchpad, no stock photos, no waiting on a contractor's schedule.

Why Texas Slab Guys Built It

"Homeowners have always had to imagine what a new driveway might look like. NewDriveway™ shows them — an experience nobody else in this industry can offer," said Jeff Price, CEO of Texas Slab Guys.

A picture is worth a thousand words, and Texas Slab Guys built NewDriveway™ around that idea.

The company positions itself as a premium concrete provider, built on clear communication, accountability, consistency, and an excellent outcome on every job — a standard that helped it earn recognition as Houston's Top Residential Concrete Driveway Contractor in 2026, in part for how it delivers a bespoke new-driveway experience from the first conversation.

That experience starts with the estimate. NewDriveway™ is paired with AI to provide a future-state visualization, letting the company finally answering the question every homeowner asks: what will it look like on the other side?

Most competitors answer that question with two words: "much better." A more sophisticated few, rare in concrete, can point to before-and-after photos from past jobs — but that still misses the mark. Homeowners don't just want proof it worked somewhere else; they want to see it on their own property, transforming their own home. Credibility from past work helps, but it doesn't answer the real question. NewDriveway™ does: it gives homeowners the ability to see their own future driveway, before committing to anything.

The Return on a New Driveway

A recent University of Texas study found that a new driveway can boost a home's property value by as much as 14 percent, giving homeowners a data-backed reason to stop imagining and start seeing exactly what that return looks like on their own property.

NewDriveway™ reflects the same philosophy that has always driven Texas Slab Guys: give homeowners real answers, not guesswork, at every step of the process — from what a project costs to what it will look like.

Technology in a Traditionally Low-Tech Industry

The concrete industry remains one of the least digitized sectors in the economy, according to a recent McKinsey report on automation and AI adoption. Few contractors offer homeowners any way to preview a project before work begins, let alone visualize it on their own property using their own photo. Texas Slab Guys sees that gap as opportunity, reinforcing its position as a technology trailblazer in a famously low-tech trade.

Available Now, Built for Texas

NewDriveway™ launched in the second quarter of 2026 and is free to use by anyone, regardless of location. Texas Slab Guys itself serves customers across Texas, with roughly 80% of new driveway projects concentrated in the Texas Triangle, the corridor connecting Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth, Austin, and San Antonio.

With NewDriveway™ now live, Texas Slab Guys continues to pair premium concrete craftsmanship with modern technology, giving homeowners something the rest of the industry can't: a real picture of their own future driveway.

About Texas Slab Guys

Texas Slab Guys provides Concrete Solutions Built for Texas, building driveways for homeowners, made transparent with NewDriveway™. The company also provides commercial concrete work: data centers, industrial facilities, roads, sidewalks, and slabs for metal buildings and barndominiums.
