CHARLOTTE, NC, UNITED STATES,

Sodoma Law is proud to announce it has earned a place on the 2026 Inc. 5000 list, the prestigious annual ranking of the fastest-growing private companies in America. This milestone recognition reflects nearly two decades of intentional, sustained growth under the leadership of founder and Managing Principal Nicole Sodoma and stands as a testament to the firm's people, culture, and unwavering commitment to clients.

Sodoma Law ranked in the Inc. 5000 list in the following categories:

#32 fastest-growing private companies in the Charlotte region
#93 in North Carolina
#154 among legal companies nationwide
Ranked #3,738 nationally

Winning Inc. 5000 is particularly meaningful for Sodoma Law as unlike venture-backed startups or e-commerce businesses, professional services businesses require a unique strategic growth plan. Professional service firms generally grow through recruiting talented people, developing leaders, expanding offices, and delivering consistent client service.

"When people hear 'fast-growing,' they often picture bigger buildings, more bureaucracy or that we were chasing growth instead of quality. None of that is the case. What I am most proud of is that we have done the opposite. We've grown while staying true to who we are. Every attorney we've hired, every office we've opened, every client we've served has been built on the idea that our family takes care of yours. This recognition belongs to every member of our team," Nicole Sodoma.

In 2008, Nicole launched Sodoma Law with 30 clients and a lease negotiated in a single day.

Within the first year, the team grew from 1 to 12 employees and revenue increased by more than 20%. Through intentional leadership and a deliberate reimagining of the traditional law firm partnership model, Sodoma Law has achieved consistent double-digit year-over-year growth for nearly two decades. Today, the firm generates more than $20 million in annual revenue, employs 100+ people including 50+ attorneys, and operates across seven offices throughout North and South Carolina.

The foundation of that growth is rooted in “The Sodoma Way”-- a culture built on commitment to clients, staff, and the community.

This recognition reflects the entire Sodoma Law team and the trust their clients place in them every day as they navigate the challenges of divorce and family law. For more information about Sodoma Law, please visit <https://sodomalaw.com/>.
