

The Hemp Doctor Drops 250mg Delta-9 THC Cream-Filled Milk Chocolate Bars

The Hemp Doctor introduces a cream-filled 250mg hemp-derived Delta-9 THC Chocolate Bar in Caramel and Bananas Foster. Scored into 10 pieces at 25mg each.

MOORESVILLE, NC, UNITED STATES, August 10, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Hemp Doctor introduced something the infused chocolate market hasn't seen before this month: a cream-filled 250mg Delta-9 THC Milk Chocolate Bar in two dessert-inspired flavors, Caramel and Bananas Foster.

250mg Delta-9 THC Cream-Filled Milk Chocolate Bars

Most infused chocolate is a flat square with a dose in it. This one has a filling. The new bar wraps a soft cream center in milk chocolate and is molded by the same specialty confectioner behind The Hemp Doctor's Dubai Bar, a maker the company brought back specifically for this format.

Each bar contains 250mg of hemp-derived Delta-9 THC and is scored into 10 pieces at 25mg per piece. Portioning is as simple as breaking off a square, which removes the guesswork that comes with cutting or eyeballing a serving.

"Customers kept telling us the same thing about infused chocolate, that it was fine but it was never a treat," said Robert Shade, Founder of The Hemp Doctor. "A cream center is harder to make and harder to dose consistently. We did it."

The Caramel bar surrounds a creamy caramel center in milk chocolate for a smooth, classic flavor. Bananas Foster leans into sweet banana and caramelized sugar over the same cream base. Both are crafted with high-quality ingredients for an indulgent bite.

Delta-9 THC is a psychoactive compound. Effects vary by individual depending on tolerance, metabolism, serving size, and other personal factors. Because chocolate moves through the digestive system before Delta-9 reaches the bloodstream, effects typically arrive anywhere from 30 minutes to two hours after eating. The company advises customers newer to edibles to start with half a piece or less and wait at least 90 minutes before deciding whether to have more.

The bars are made with hemp-derived Delta-9 THC and stay under 0.3% Delta-9 THC by dry weight. Lab results are published on the website, available for viewing anytime.

The 250mg Delta-9 THC Filled Milk Chocolate Bar is available in Caramel and Bananas Foster flavors through two channels.

The retail version is listed at: thehempdoctor.com/product/delta-9-thc-chocolate-bar-cream-filled/

A wholesale version is available at: thdwholesale.com/product/filled-milk-chocolate-bar-premium-d9-chocolate-bar/ for qualified buyers

Current order processing runs approximately 2 to 5 business days, with shipping speed depending on the method selected at checkout.
