Arvore (US) LP Sets Initial Focus on the Texas Lower Mid-Market

Arvore will initially target founder-led Texas businesses across five core verticals, with EBITDA ranging from $1 million to $10 million.

CALGARY, AB, CANADA, August 11, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Omnigence Asset Management ("Omnigence") today announced that Arvore (US) LP ("Arvore") will concentrate its initial US acquisitions on the Texas lower mid-market, targeting founder-led businesses in the $1 million to $10 million EBITDA range across Arvore's five core verticals: building products distribution, environmental services, automotive maintenance, master franchisors, and light industrial.

Texas is a natural entry point for Arvore within the United States marketplace"
Stephen Johnston

Texas represents one of the largest and most fragmented small-business economies in North America, with a deep base of founder-owned companies approaching ownership transition. Arvore's strategy is built for exactly this environment — sourcing proprietary, low-multiple acquisitions, integrating them on a technology-driven operating platform, and scaling them toward the middle market, where valuations are higher and the buyer pool is deeper.

A generational wave of business-owner retirements is creating a historic supply of quality companies for acquisition, while the lower mid-market remains under-competed relative to large-cap private equity. This creates an excellent opportunity to acquire great companies at compelling valuations.

"Texas is a natural entry point for Arvore within the United States marketplace," said Stephen Johnston, partner at Arvore and a director of Omnigence. "The market has exactly the characteristics we look for: a large number of well-run, founder-led businesses, sectors with durable demand, and far less competition for deals than in the large-cap space. Our model is designed to give these owners a good outcome and our investors consistent cash returns."
