Director, Baker Tilly*

At FATE 2026, Baker Tilly will present two sessions focused on helping finance leaders build an AI-ready organization. From creating clean, well-governed data to evaluating ERP-native and external AI platforms, attendees will gain practical frameworks for adopting AI with confidence and managing risk along the way.

Featured Sessions:

Garbage In, Governed Out: Clean Up Your Financial Data Before It Cleans You Out

Wednesday, November 18 | 1:55–2:20 p.m.

Designing the AI Operating Model for Finance: Native ERP AI, Frontier AI Platforms, and the Decisions That Matter

Thursday, November 19 | 10:15–10:40 a.m.

Reflecting on their experience at last year's event, Baker Tilly highlighted the value of FATE's unique format and engaged audience.

"We were impressed with the quality of conversations with finance leaders from many different industries and company sizes. The event format was dynamic and provides a range of topics and technologies, which fits Baker Tilly's multi-faceted business and digital advisory team." — Ryan Brown, Products Director, Baker Tilly

As FATE enters its third year, returning partners like Baker Tilly continue to reinforce the event's role as a premier destination for finance technology discovery, bringing together solution providers and finance leaders for meaningful conversations, practical learning, and valuable connections.

Attendees are encouraged to visit Baker Tilly on the expo floor to connect with the firm's experts, discuss today's evolving finance technology landscape, and explore strategies for advancing finance transformation.
