

Couri Hay Updates Definitive Celebrity Guides to Three of Hollywood's Rising Stars

R. Couri Hay Creative Public Relations has updated its celebrity guides to Lily Santiago, Brianne Howey and Lilli Kay, highlighting their rising careers.

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, August 12, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- R. Couri Hay Creative Public Relations has announced updates to three of its popular celebrity guides, offering readers a closer look at the careers, backgrounds and growing profiles of actresses Lily Santiago, Brianne Howey and Lilli Kay.

Published through Couri's Columns on R. Couri Hay's website, the guides are designed to answer the questions audiences are increasingly asking about some of Hollywood's most talked-about performers. Each profile brings together career highlights, personal background, notable roles and other information for readers who want to know more about the people they are seeing across television, film and streaming platforms.

The updated Who Is Lily Santiago guide explores the New York-born actress's path from classical theater and Broadway to increasingly prominent television roles. Santiago gained widespread recognition playing Veronica Castillo on NBC's La Brea before appearing as Naya Vasquez alongside Eric Bana in the Netflix mystery series Untamed. Her background also includes extensive stage experience and a 2024 Broadway debut in Mary Jane.

The guide examines Santiago's New York roots, education, acting background and the career progression that has helped establish her as a rising presence in entertainment.

R. Couri Hay has also updated its Who Is Brianne Howey guide, taking a deeper look at the actress who has become widely recognized for playing Georgia Miller in Netflix's Ginny & Georgia. Before landing the role, Howey steadily built her career through television appearances and roles in productions including The Exorcist, The Passage, Batwoman and Dollface.

The guide follows Howey's journey from studying at New York University's Tisch School of the Arts to becoming the lead of one of Netflix's most recognizable series. It also gives readers a broader look at the career and background behind the actress.

The third updated feature, Who Is Lilli Kay, focuses on the Brooklyn-born actress whose television work has included major roles in Your Honor and Yellowstone. A graduate of Carnegie Mellon University, Kay first gained attention through projects including Netflix's Chambers before reaching larger audiences as Fia Baxter in Your Honor and Clara Brewer in Yellowstone.

Together, the three guides are part of the growing entertainment and celebrity coverage available through Couri's Columns.

R. Couri Hay has spent decades at the intersection of public relations, media, entertainment, society and New York culture. The celebrity guides build on that experience while providing detailed resources that can be continually updated as careers develop and new projects are announced.
