

DriveTestIQ.com Opens All 657 Driver's License Written Test Questions Free

No account needed, no credit card or no promo code required. Free access runs August 12–September 12 across 35 states and jurisdictions.

SAN FRANCISCO, CA, UNITED STATES, August 12, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- DriveTestIQ.com, an independent study platform for state driver's license written tests, has opened all 657 practice questions and answers free to learners in every state and jurisdiction it serves through September 11, 2026.

Passing a state knowledge or written test is a required step toward getting a driver's license for millions of new drivers. The multiple-choice exam tests knowledge of that state's traffic laws, road signs and driving rules.

DriveTestIQ.com is built specifically to help learners prepare for that test.

For America's 250th year, we wanted learners across the country to have access to all 657 questions for their own state, completely free."

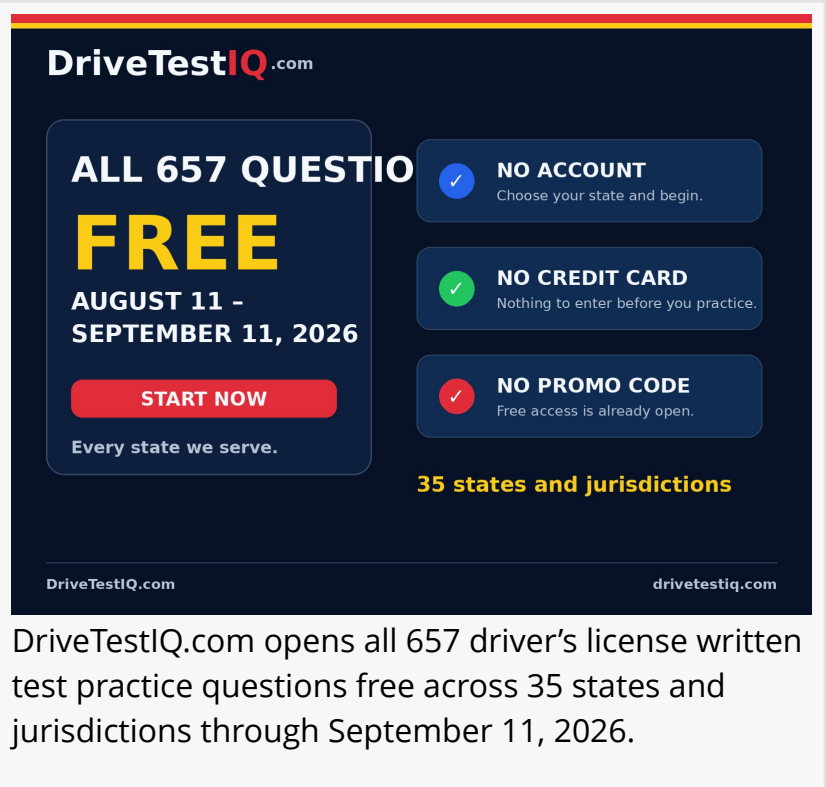

DriveTestIQ.com Team

Nothing is required to use the site during the free-access period. There is no account to create, no credit card to enter and no promo code to remember. Learners simply go to DriveTestIQ.com, select their state from the home page and begin practicing immediately.

The offer covers 35 states and jurisdictions, including California, Texas, Florida, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Georgia, North Carolina and Michigan.

Twelve states and jurisdictions currently offer all 657 questions in more than one language:

The screenshot shows the DriveTestIQ.com homepage during a promotional period. The header displays the site's name. The main content area features a large announcement: "ALL 657 QUESTIONS FREE AUGUST 11 - SEPTEMBER 11, 2026". Below this is a prominent red "START NOW" button with the text "Every state we serve." underneath. To the right, three blue boxes with checkmarks list the requirements: "NO ACCOUNT" (Choose your state and begin.), "NO CREDIT CARD" (Nothing to enter before you practice.), and "NO PROMO CODE" (Free access is already open.). At the bottom of the main content area, it states "35 states and jurisdictions". The footer includes the website URL "DriveTestIQ.com" on the left and "drivetestiq.com" on the right.

California — 12 languages: English, Spanish, Chinese (Simplified), Tagalog, Vietnamese, Korean, Hindi, Farsi, Arabic, Russian, Japanese and Armenian.

Texas — nine languages: English, Spanish, Chinese (Simplified), Tagalog, Vietnamese, Korean, Hindi, Arabic and Urdu.

Florida — three languages: English, Spanish and Haitian Creole.

Alaska, Alabama, Arkansas, Arizona, New Jersey, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Virginia and Washington, D.C. — English and Spanish.

Each state's 657 Questions™ are written from that state's public driving laws and applicable public road-sign standards. Every answer is traced to the section of law or rule behind it, giving learners direct access to the legal source supporting each answer.

"Learning to drive is one of the first major responsibilities many Americans take on, and the written test is one of the first gates they have to pass," the DriveTestIQ.com team said. "For America's 250th year, we wanted learners across the country — teenagers, adults and first-time drivers alike — to have access to all 657 questions for their own state, in the languages we support, completely free."

DriveTestIQ.com also automatically collects missed questions into a Fix List, allowing learners to return to the exact topics they need to work on before test day.

Free access runs from August 11 through September 11, 2026. After the promotion ends, a free

The screenshot shows the DriveTestIQ.com homepage. At the top, the logo "DriveTestIQ.com" is displayed. Below it, the heading "PRACTICE FOR YOUR STATE" is followed by "35 STATES AND JURISDICTIONS" in yellow. A subtext says "Pick your state on the home page and start immediately." Below this, there are two columns of blue buttons, each with a colored dot and a state name: CALIFORNIA (red dot), TEXAS (red dot), FLORIDA (red dot), NEW YORK (blue dot), PENNSYLVANIA (blue dot), ILLINOIS (blue dot), OHIO (blue dot), GEORGIA (blue dot), NORTH CAROLINA (blue dot), and MICHIGAN (blue dot). At the bottom left, it says "+ 25 more DriveTestIQ.com". At the bottom right, it says "State-specific written-test practice".

DriveTestIQ provides state-specific written test practice across 35 states and jurisdictions, including California, Texas, Florida and New York.

The screenshot shows a practice question on the DriveTestIQ.com website. The heading "EVERY ANSWER SHOWS THE LAW" is followed by "See the exact section of public law or rule supporting the answer." Below this, there are two main sections. On the left, "Example practice flow" contains a question: "A driver approaches an intersection controlled by a steady red signal. What must the driver do?" and three multiple-choice options: A "Proceed if no vehicles are visible", B "Stop before entering the intersection" (which is highlighted in green with a checkmark), and C "Slow down and continue without stopping". On the right, "LEGAL SOURCE" contains "STATE VEHICLE CODE" and "Exact section citation", with a blue button labeled "VIEW SOURCE". At the bottom right, it says "Built from public driving law." At the bottom left, it says "DriveTestIQ.com". At the bottom right, it says "Source-backed practice".

DriveTestIQ shows the public state law or rule supporting each answer so learners can see the legal source behind their practice questions.

sample will remain available in every state DriveTestIQ serves. Full access is available as a one-time purchase, with no subscription and no auto-renewal.

About DriveTestIQ.com

DriveTestIQ.com provides original practice questions and answers for state driver's license written and knowledge tests, built state by state from public driving laws and rules.

DriveTestIQ.com is an independent study platform and is not affiliated with any state DMV, licensing agency or government entity.

Media Contact

DriveTestIQ.com Media Relations

press@drivetestiq.com

<https://www.drivetestiq.com/>

DriveTestIQ.com Media Relations

DriveTestIQ.com

email us here

Visit us on social media:

Instagram

YouTube

TikTok

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/933688970>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2026 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.