

Sweet Home Movers Chicago Expands Packing Services Across The Loop, River North, Lakeview and the Gold Coast

Neighborhood-specific packing teams address the building rules, elevator windows and vintage architecture that make Chicago moves unlike anywhere else

CHICAGO, IL, UNITED STATES, August 14, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Sweet Home Movers Chicago, a fully insured local and long-distance moving company serving Chicago and the surrounding Chicagoland area, today announced an expansion of its professional packing and unpacking services across four of the city's busiest residential and commercial corridors: The Loop, River North, Lakeview and the Gold Coast.

The expansion pairs dedicated packing crews with the company's existing high-rise moving operation, allowing residents and businesses to book packing, loading, transport and unpacking as a single coordinated service rather than assembling it piece by piece.

Why Chicago Packing Is a Neighborhood-by-Neighborhood Problem

Sweet Home Movers Chicago built the program around a practical reality: a move in a Gold Coast greystone has almost nothing in common with a move out of a West Loop-adjacent Loop office tower, and packing plans that ignore that difference tend to fall apart on move day.

The Loop - Office relocations and downtown residential towers operate under strict loading-dock windows, and a Certificate of Insurance (COI) is typically required well in advance. The company's Loop crews pre-pack workstations, server equipment and file systems by department, then stage everything to move inside a single reserved elevator block, reducing business downtime.

River North - Luxury high-rises and condo associations often limit moves to specific hours and require freight elevator reservations to be booked days in advance. Packing is completed before the elevator window opens, so the reserved time is spent moving inventory rather than filling boxes in a hallway.

Lakeview - Vintage walk-ups, three-flats and converted two-flats mean narrow staircases, tight landings and limited street access. Crews use smaller, denser cartons and disassemble oversized furniture on-site, and can arrange temporary no-parking permits so the truck isn't parked three blocks away.

Gold Coast - Historic buildings, landmarked facades and antique furnishings call for a slower, higher-touch approach. The company offers specialty packing for artwork, mirrors, chandeliers, china and heirloom pieces, including custom crating and full furniture padding.

Packing Services Now Available

Full-service packing — Entire home or office packed, labeled and inventoried by room

Partial packing — Kitchens, closets, garages or any single problem area

Fragile-only packing — Glassware, china, art, electronics and collectibles

Wardrobe box service — Clothing transferred on hangers, no folding or re-ironing

Unpacking and setup — Boxes emptied, items placed, materials hauled away

Materials supply — Dish barrels, mirror cartons, packing paper, bubble wrap and shrink film

All packing work is performed by trained, full-time employees — not day labor — and quoted with transparent, itemized pricing and no hidden fees.

Planning Around the Building, Not Just the Address

The company's approach centers on handling building requirements before packing begins. COIs are filed with property management ahead of the move date, freight elevators are reserved in advance, and packing is scheduled so that boxes are sealed and staged before the elevator window opens — not during it. For walk-ups and vintage buildings without service elevators, crews adjust carton sizes and disassembly plans to the stairwell rather than the floor plan.

Availability

Packing and unpacking services are available now throughout Chicago, including The Loop, River North, Lakeview, the Gold Coast, Lincoln Park, Wicker Park and the West Loop, along with Evanston, Oak Park, Arlington Heights, Naperville and surrounding Chicagoland suburbs. Free estimates are available by phone or through the company's website.
