Synchrocare Announces Medical Device Franchise Opportunities Across Pennsylvania

Expansion brings advanced medical device distribution to hospitals and clinics throughout the state.

PA, UNITED STATES, August 25, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Synchrocare, LLC, a medical device distributor operating since 2005, has announced the availability of franchise territories across Pennsylvania. The expansion is intended to bring advanced medical device distribution to hospitals, surgical centers, and clinics throughout the state.

Pennsylvania operates one of the largest healthcare systems in the United States, with major academic medical centers in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh alongside regional hospitals and outpatient facilities statewide. The franchise program is designed to connect that provider network with cost-effective medical technologies through locally based franchise owners.

Synchrocare franchise owners operate independently while drawing on the company's established manufacturer partnerships, product portfolio, and operational support. The model does not require a prior medical background. A self-paced training program covers anatomy, medical device technology, and provider engagement, preparing franchise owners to work with surgeons, hospital procurement teams, and clinical administrators.

"By providing industry-leading products, comprehensive training, and robust operational support, we enable franchisees to focus on building meaningful relationships with providers and helping improve patient outcomes," said Reza Yazdian, J.D., Principal Managing Partner of Synchrocare.

The global medical device market was valued at over $500 billion in 2024 and is projected to exceed $850 billion by 2032. The franchise expansion in Pennsylvania reflects continued growth in demand for medical device distribution across the region.

Franchise territories are currently available throughout Pennsylvania. Additional information is available at www.synchrocare.com/franchising.
