Brooke Babineau - Client Experience Specialist

In her new role at OGARAJETS, Babineau will oversee client engagement initiatives throughout the lifecycle of aircraft purchases and sales. Her responsibilities include managing pre-purchase inspection logistics, aligning interdepartmental workflows, and maintaining clear communication across all parties during complex transactions.

"In business aviation, delivering an exceptional client experience requires much more than great customer service, it demands operational discipline, technical clarity, and meticulous execution behind the scenes," said Jared Orich, Technical Services Manager at OGARAJETS. "Brooke's background gives her a practical understanding of what buyers and sellers face. She knows how to anticipate and solve problems, making her a tremendous asset to our team and our clients."

Prior to joining OGARAJETS, Babineau served as an Account Manager at Wheels Up, where she oversaw a portfolio of more than 300 high-net-worth member accounts, driving retention and account development. She subsequently transitioned into charter sales and flight operations at Unity Jets, where she managed operator negotiations, flight logistics, regulatory compliance, and crew scheduling.

“OGARAJETS has built a 45-plus year reputation on integrity and doing what is right for the client,” said Babineau. “I’m thrilled to join a team that holds itself to such high standards. Aircraft transactions involve dozens of moving parts, and my goal is to make the entire process feels effortless for our clients by keeping every detail organized, transparent, and aligned with their goals.”
