Headquartered in Providence, Rhode Island, Unison Advisors is an SEC-registered investment adviser founded in 2005 by Nir Kaissar, CFA, who serves as the firm's Portfolio Manager and Managing Member. Unison takes a data-driven, systematic approach to constructing diversified multi-asset portfolios for institutional and individual clients alike. The firm's approach to investing is grounded in valuation discipline, cost sensitivity, broad diversification across asset classes, regions, and styles, and a reliance on evidence over intuition, delivered through three strategies built around conservative, moderate, and growth risk profiles.

“Unison made the decision early on to report strategy-wide performance to our clients so that they and we are clear about how we’re doing,” Nir said. “GIPS is the gold standard of performance reporting, and there are no abler or more expert partners in that pursuit than TSG. More than a decade of verified GIPS compliance shows Unison’s long-standing commitment to accurate, transparent performance reporting, and its ongoing accountability to clients and prospects who rely on that reporting.”

"Ten consecutive independent verifications says a great deal about how seriously a firm takes its discipline," said Chris Spaulding, TSG's Chief Growth Officer "It's been a privilege to support Unison Advisors' commitment to accurate, transparent performance reporting throughout that time, and we look forward to many more years partnering alongside them."

TSG has verified GIPS compliance for investment firms and asset owners around the world, including many relationships spanning a decade or more. Unison Advisors' 10th consecutive verification reflects that same continuity and reinforces TSG's role as a trusted partner to firms committed to sustained, best-practice performance reporting.
