SAN ANTONIO , TX, UNITED STATES,
August 14, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ --
Move and Care has been awarded a Fabulous rating by independent moving industry evaluator Great Guys Moving, which scored the company

8.69 out of 10 in its 11-point review and placed it ahead of 1,699 other moving companies in Texas. The recognition lands as the company continues building out its San Antonio operation from its office at 1100 Northwest Loop 410 Ste 733.

The Great Guys Moving analysis is built on customer feedback rather than paid placement. Reviewers examined 301 customer reviews and 686 data points covering eleven separate service categories. Move and Care scored 9.59 for friendliness, 9.44 for speed, 9.38 for both punctuality and overall quality, 9.36 for likelihood to hire again, 9.24 for professionalism, and 9.20 for precision and care. Each of those figures sits above the Texas statewide average for the same category.

That third party score tracks closely with what the company already sees in its own feedback. Move and Care holds a 4.9 star average across more than 2,500 cumulative reviews on Google, Yelp, Thumbtack, Angi, and the Better Business Bureau, and it appears in Forbes Home coverage of local moving services.

"Ratings like this one are earned crew by crew, not in a marketing meeting," a company spokesperson said. "Every team we send out in San Antonio includes a leader with at least three years on the job, every mover is background checked and trained to pack, and the customer talks to a dedicated moving manager from the first call to the last box. Those three habits are the whole story behind the score."

The company operates as a fully licensed and insured moving company in San Antonio, carrying USDOT number 3212621, MC number 1018431, and TXDMV number 009636518C for both in state and interstate work. Basic insurance is included with every service by default, all furniture is wrapped in moving blankets at no additional charge, and every truck in the fleet carries a GPS tracker so customers can follow their shipment in real time.

Pricing follows a structure the company has kept deliberately simple. Any relocation within 150 miles of San Antonio is treated as a local move and billed at an hourly rate in 15 minute increments with a three hour minimum, so customers pay for the work actually performed. Anything beyond that radius is quoted as a flat rate long distance move that does not change if the job runs longer than expected. Movers, truck, gas, tolls, transportation, and basic insurance are all included in the quoted figure, with no hidden fees added after the fact.

Demand for local movers in San Antonio has stayed heavy across the metro and its surrounding suburbs. Move and Care serves Stone Oak, Alamo Heights, Schertz, Helotes, Boerne, Cibolo, Leon Valley, Universal City, New Braunfels, Castle Hills, Shavano Park, and Balcones Heights, with crews that know how to route a 26 foot truck through The Pearl, Tobin Hill, and Southtown as well as the I-10, Loop 410, and Highway 281 corridors. Interstate demand has grown alongside it, and the company's long distance moving services now cover routes from San Antonio to Austin, Dallas, Houston, Denver, Phoenix, Las Vegas, and Los Angeles, among others.

Beyond loading and transport, the company handles packing and supplies, short and long term storage, piano moving, senior moving, commercial relocations, military and government moves, and a white glove service for delicate and high value items. Customers who need only part of the process can build a customized moving plan with a moving manager instead of paying for a full service package. The first consultation is free, and the support line stays open around the clock during active moves. Residents and businesses planning a relocation can request an estimate at move-and-care.com or reach the San Antonio office directly.
