22, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Bible contains roughly 31,000 verses, which is precisely the problem for anyone trying to choose one for a friend's wedding, a diagnosis, or a graduation. Bible with Life, a Christian media platform, has built its blessing song service around a simple method for the choice, and argues most people are asking the wrong question.

People freeze in front of 31,000 verses the way they freeze in front of a card aisle. The fix is the same: know the moment, then choose.”

Benny Yu, Founder of Bible with Life

"People freeze in front of 31,000 verses the way they freeze in front of a card aisle," said Benny Yu, founder of Bible with Life. "The fix is the same: know the moment, then choose. The right question is not 'which verse is best.' It is 'which verse is addressed to this moment in this person's life.'"

For each of its eight occasions, birthdays, weddings, sympathy, healing, encouragement, graduations, new babies, and anniversaries, the platform curates and annotates verse lists: what each passage is saying, where it comes from, and why it fits the moment. A sender choosing a verse for a grieving friend is not scrolling search results; they are choosing among a handful of passages the church has used at gravesides for centuries, each with a plain-language note.

The curation reflects a conviction about how Scripture comforts, Yu said. A verse about God's plans for prosperity may be true and still be the wrong verse for a hospital room. Fit matters, and fit is knowable.

Once chosen, the verse becomes a personalized Scripture blessing song, sung with the recipient's name. Creating and sharing the song is free.

The platform's wider free library includes 45 animated Bible story films, 63 original worship tracks, a daily Bible verse email, and a 30-day prayer challenge.

The annotated verse lists and blessing songs are available at biblewithlife.com/send-a-song.
