LONDON, LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, September 8, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- EXG PRO Launches Peekos: Limited-Edition Collectible Mini Phone Holders

EXG Pro, the creators of Cable Guys, is launching Peekos, a new collectible phone holder range with a twist on one of the biggest trends in collecting: the blind box.

The fun of a blind box is all about the anticipation of discovering which character is inside. But with Peekos, fans don't have to leave it entirely to chance.

Each Peekos box features a clever opening on the side, allowing fans to peek inside and see exactly which character they're getting before they buy.

No guessing. No hoping you've picked the right box. Just Peek, pick and prop.

And because this is EXG Pro, the character you've chosen isn't just for display. Each figure is designed to hold your phone upright, bringing a little personality to desks, gaming setups, bedside tables and shelves, while keeping your phone ready for watching, scrolling and more.

It’s a simple idea that brings together the excitement of collecting with the functionality EXG Pro is known for. Fans still get the fun of searching through the boxes and discovering the characters available, but the power to choose is in their hands.

That also means collectors looking to complete a set can hunt down exactly who they need, while those who simply want their favourite character can find them without leaving it to luck.

Launching with five major collections, Peekos brings together some of the biggest names in gaming, film and pop culture: Netflix’s K-Pop Demon Hunters, Disney Star Wars, Fortnite, Minecraft and Universal Monsters. Each collection features six Peekos to collect, with every range bringing its own twist.

K-Pop Demon Hunters fans can collect Rumi, Mira and Zoey , each in two in a series of different poses, while Disney’s Star Wars collection brings together some of the galaxy's most iconic droids to collect, including R2-D2, C-3PO and BB-8.

EXG Pro - Minecraft Peekos Collection

Minecraft fans can build their collection with the Creeper, Enderman, Zombie, Wolf, Pig and Sheep, while Fortnite puts Peely in the spotlight with six fun Peely skin variants s to discover.

Rounding out the launch is Universal Monsters, bringing six iconic characters of horror to the Peekos range: Frankenstein's Monster, Dracula, the Bride, the Mummy, the Creature and the Wolf Man.

With six to collect in every collection, fans can peek for their favourite, pick the ones they're missing, or set out to complete the whole range. With only a limited number of each character available, once they’re gone, they’re gone for good.

Compact enough to collect but packed with personality, the range builds on EXG Pro's motto to creating products that bring together fandom and function. It's the same thinking behind Cable Guys, reimagined for a new style of collectible and a new generation of collectors.

Alan Fenwick, CEO at EXG Pro, said: “Blind boxes have become a huge part of collecting, and we loved the idea of taking that experience and doing something a little different with it. With Peekos, there's still that excitement of looking through the boxes and discovering who's inside, but you get to peek and choose the character you actually want.

“Then, once you've picked your favourite, it does more than just sit on a shelf. You can prop up your phone and make it part of your everyday setup. It brings together the fun of collecting with something genuinely useful, while giving fans a new way to enjoy the characters they love.”

And that's just the beginning. With Peekos made for collecting and an ever-growing world of characters to explore, the range is set to bring even more familiar faces to desks, shelves and setups in the future.

PEEK. PICK. PROP.

Peekos are available to pre-order now, priced at £/$11.99, from peekos.exgpro.com.
