"Sharing this behind-the-scenes joy with Jane and Joe feels like a gift to our community," said Tim Mallad, Board Chair of the Open Hearts Foundation. "Moments of laughter, creativity, and connection remind us why our mission matters. When we come together, whether to learn, to be inspired, or simply to enjoy something beautiful, we strengthen the open-hearted spirit that helps turn adversity into possibility."

About Jane Seymour: Jane Seymour is an Emmy Award-winning and two-time Golden Globe-winning actress known for her iconic roles in Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman, Live and Let Die, Somewhere in Time, Wedding Crashers, The Kominsky Method, and, most recently, the hit series Harry Wild. With a career spanning film, television, and theater, Jane is beloved for her versatility, warmth, and enduring impact on storytelling. Beyond her screen work, she is a dedicated philanthropist and proud founder and member of the Open Hearts Foundation Board.

“Harry Wild has resonated with audiences around the world because it blends mystery with humanity,” said Jane Seymour. “I’m thrilled to share a deeper look at how our team brings these stories to life and to do so in support of the Open Hearts Foundation’s mission of healing, creativity, and community.”

About Joe Lando: Joe Lando is an acclaimed actor best known for his beloved role as Byron Sully in the long running hit Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman, where his onscreen partnership with Jane Seymour became iconic. His career spans film and television, including roles in Guiding Light, The Secret Circle, Higher Ground, and numerous independent projects that showcase his depth, versatility, and enduring connection with audiences. In Harry Wild, Joe reunites with Jane to bring fresh humor, heart, and chemistry to the series, and continuing a creative partnership that fans have cherished for decades.

Proceeds from the event will directly support the Foundation’s mission—empowering those who turn adversity into possibility.

The event will be free to current and new Giving Circle Members of the organization. It will also recognize generous sponsors whose support makes this experience possible. Sponsors receive prominent visibility throughout the program, including recognition by Jane Seymour, logo placement across event materials, inclusion in promotional communications, and additional engagement opportunities.

About the Open Hearts Foundation: The Open Hearts Foundation identifies and empowers small nonprofits nationwide that are turning adversity into possibility. We primarily support organizations serving under-resourced communities, with a focus on families, women, and children. We support small nonprofits through strategic grantmaking, grantee trainings, convenings, peer learning, volunteer mobilization, pro bono support, and storytelling amplified across both the Foundation's and Jane Seymour's platforms. Together, we help community leaders transform adversity into possibility while advancing creativity, compassion, and connection nationwide.
