MADISON, FL, UNITED STATES, August

17, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Patrick Lange of Business Modification Group recently facilitated the sale of a well-established HVAC business serving the Oklahoma metropolitan area.

The eight-year-old company attracted the buyer largely due to the scale and infrastructure it had developed. A strong base of maintenance agreements provided recurring customer revenue and a solid foundation for continued growth. The company had also modernized its operations by adopting a customer relationship management (CRM) system and accounting tools, creating a more organized and scalable operation.

We expect this company to thrive under its new ownership”

“The buyer recognized the value of what the seller had built,” said Patrick Lange of Business Modification Group. “This was a well-run business. The characteristics made it particularly attractive to a buyer looking for an established operation with room for continued success.” After building the company, the seller has decided to move on to the next chapter in their life, although they will be remaining on for a short period to ensure a smooth ownership transition. Lange added. “We expect this company to thrive under its new ownership.”

About Business Modification Group:

Business Modification Group continues to lead the market in HVAC business transactions, with nearly 50 active listings nationwide and a track record of successful closings. Lange’s industry knowledge and focused approach have made him the go-to broker for heating and air business owners looking to sell.
